

Old-fashioned doctor

Service is tomorrow for Dr. Clarence Carpenter

Dr. Clarence "Doc" J. Carpenter, an old-fashioned doctor who still believed in house calls and an institution in the Wayne area for the last 51 years, died Monday morning at the age of 86.

"Doc" had been a patient at Wayne County General Hospital for some three weeks for treatment of a heart condition.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday at the First Congregational Church of Wayne, with The Rev. Earven Andersen, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

Surviving are his wife, Doris; two sons, Willis of Dearborn and Earl of South Lyons; a daughter, Dorothy of Dearborn; a brother, Edward Carpenter of Wayne, and two grandchildren, Brian and Craig.

Dr. Carpenter was born Sept. 1, 1893, in Wayne. In 1922 he was graduated from medical school in Cincinnati, Ohio. For a year after that he was in residency at Delray Hospital in Detroit.

"Doc," as he affectionately became known to friends, acquaintances and patients, began his private medical practice in 1924 on Fort Street in Detroit, later moving to Wayne where he opened Wayne County Hospital at Biddle and Main streets in 1929.

He operated the hospital under that name until 1950 when he changed its name to Carpenter's Hospital. Eloise, then a mental institution, that year changed its name to Wayne County General Hospital and the similarity in names prompted his renaming of the hospital.

Dr. Carpenter operated Carpenter's Hospital until 1960 when the building was torn down to make way for an urban renewal project in the area. That same year, he moved to a location at Michigan and Second streets where he built a medical clinic.

Later, he moved to a location on Van Born Road in Romulus, between Hannan and Wayne roads, where he opened another medical clinic, which he operated until the time of his death.

"Doc" would minister to anyone at any hour of the day or night, either at the patient's home or at his clinic. Whether the patient could pay for his services never mattered to him.

His generosity extended to the nuns at St. Mary's Convent, then in Wayne, many of whom he treated free of charge. On the grounds of his clinic, actually built on farm land, he erected a pistol shooting range for the use of Wayne city policemen. Once each year for many years, "Doc" put on a mammoth outdoor picnic barbecue for scores of his friends and patients. The event became widely known.

A veteran of World War I, Dr. Carpenter believed in becoming involved in his community. He was a past president of the Wayne Kiwanis Club, Wayne Chamber of Commerce, and the Romulus Chamber of Commerce and was a member of the Wayne County Medical Society, Industrial Medical Association, Michigan State Medical Society, American Medical Association, and a lifetime member of the Zoological Society.

In Dr. Carpenter's honor, organizers of Michigan Week in Romulus announced Monday that they will rename one of the special event days — Livelihood Day — to Dr. Clarence J. Carpenter Day. On that day, Wednesday, May 21, Irving Bluestone, vice-president of the United Auto Workers, will address a noon luncheon at the Hilton Inn in Romulus.

Up and over

Pupils at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School in Romulus frolic on playground Friday much the same as they did prior to 6-week strike by school district teachers. Since the return to the classrooms Romulus school board had laid off 49 teachers and is considering cutbacks in programs, services and additional personnel. Summer classes to make up days lost in the strike also loom on the horizon. — ANP photo.

In contract dispute

Fact-finding hearing ordered by MERC

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus School District has agreed to participate in fact-finding hearings aimed at settling the impasse on a new contract with teachers. Officials have expressed hope that the strike will be ended by the present session.

The present session will take up lost days, resulting from the strike. Interim School Supt. Marvin Fischer Monday said the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC) has directed Romulus and three other districts involved in the 6-week teacher strike to participate in fact-finding sessions.

"The first hearing for Romulus will be held June 9 in the MERC office downtown, with subsequent hearings to be held later in Romulus," the superintendent said.

Fischer said MERC has appointed three hearing officers who will listen to testimony and make "non-binding" recommendations on how to resolve the deadlock between the Romulus school board and the WC MEA-NEA, the union representing teachers.

"It's very unusual for MERC to undertake this action," Fischer remarked. "They did not consult with the parties involved, but went ahead under the state law to order this action."

Although Fischer said the Romulus school board would take part in the fact-finding hearings, he said everything that would be covered during the sessions "are issues that already have been discussed for a long time."

The superintendent said the local school district is opposed to efforts by the State Board of Education to pass new legislation calling for extension of the school year pass June 30, 1980. Excluding Saturday classes, the Romulus school system would have to hold classes until July 18 to make up days lost as a result of the teacher strike, he said.

Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, chief negotiator for the school district, explained: "The state board must find a sponsor for its bill. So far, no sponsor has been found to my knowledge."

Dr. LeCesne said the Romulus school district did not have an opportunity to express its views on the proposed legislation to either the State Board of Education or to the State Legislature.

"We definitely are not interested in the school year extending past next June 30," he said.

Fischer said the school system Monday received copies of correspondence to the state board from Phillip Runkel, state superintendent of public instruction, or his predecessor, asking the attorney general to order 180-day school years for the four school districts whose teachers went out on strike.

"Kelleys said no-bul-gaw," state board the option of submitting a proposed special bill to extend the school year past June 30," the superintendent said.

Fischer said he hoped that school district residents would contact local legislators and express their feelings on the matter.

"The Romulus school district is opposed to this kind of legislation," he declared.

With the question of the school year issue in limbo, reports are coming to the Roman of a loosely-knit effort by some school district residents to protest the proposed legislation.

Mrs. Annette French, a mother of two children in the city's public schools, said she and several others in the Hayti Elementary School area are circulating petitions against the legislation to prolong the school year.

She said her group was opposed to the extension, Saturday classes and the teacher strike.

City, Sheriff reach accord on police service contact

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

Despite strong objections by Councilman Ed Rush, the Romulus City Council Tuesday voted 5-2 to accept one of three proposals offered by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for continued law enforcement services to the city.

With both Rush and Councilman Richard Yeramian abstaining, council approved implementing the proposal by June 1. Yeramian abstained from voting, he explained, because he is on sick leave from the Sheriff's Department.

Presentation of Plans A, B, and C was made by Jamil Akhtar, administrative aide to Sheriff William Lucas. The sheriff had informed the council that he was unable to attend the workshop session held prior to the regular council meeting.

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry amended the council agenda to include voting on the three proposals, and his motion to approve Plan C passed during the regular council meeting.

Rush criticized being in such a hurry, recommending instead that council take a "couple of days" to review and study the proposals before making up its mind.

Plan C, as explained by Akhtar, enables the city "to hire personnel" rather than to buy a specified number of police units. The aide said the 25 uniformed officers would be deployed on three shifts and could be moved around from one shift to another as needed.

Plan C, like Plans A and B, will eliminate two additional detectives now assigned to the Romulus area under the old contract, but will retain the services of Sgt. John Lewis, the youth officer, who handles primarily juvenile cases.

However, Akhtar said, Romulus still will have the continued services of two detectives who cost always has been paid by the county.

Plan C, at an annual cost of $1,313,880 per year, or $109,490 per month, is the most expensive of the three proposals. Plan A, with two basic police units, would run $837,418 per year, while Plan B, with three basic police units, would cost $1,237,673 per year. The city is now paying the county $142,000 per month, under a recent agreement to continue the old contract.

Although the approved Plan C will cut the number of police officers serving the city from 32 to 25, Akhtar stressed that its flexibility will provide "reasonable police protection to the city."

He also emphasized that Sheriff William Lucas had made a concerted attempt to offer proposals that would keep rising costs due to inflation and new contracts with his personnel to a minimum.

Akhtar told council that under all three proposals it will take longer than under the old contract for an officer to respond to homes or businesses to take care of minor complaints.

Under Plan A, but not Plans B and C, Akhtar said citizens would have had to go to the sheriff's Henry Ruff Road office "to fill our reports normally performed by officers at homes or businesses."

The aide said it would cost an estimated half million dollars more for the city to keep the same level of services it had under the old contract of 1974.

Asked by Rush how much a single detective cost now, Akhtar said the total cost, with benefits, is $39,000 per year. He added that a uniformed officer costs even more, since that position carries more fringe benefits.

During workshop discussion, Raspberry said a crisis existed now in regard to continuation of police services. He emphasized that it was better to hire 25 officers than lose all 32 now working in the city.

Akhtar presented the three proposals in response to a request from the city. Assisting him in explaining the proposals was Lt. William Harris, who exercises total responsibility for officers assigned to Romulus.

Harris commented: "Certain segments of the city flourish on crime."

Akhtar also explained that under Plan C scout cars would be dispatched to the most serious complaints first, with minor complaints being held back until another car could respond.

Plan C will provide for one police car to be used as a report vehicle from midnight in which the assigned officer would do nothing but make out reports. He would be used for backup in some instances, the aide said.

Suggested during workshop discussion by Yeramian was a plan to ask city residents for feedback on

Police intensify search for 3 murder suspects

Law enforcement officers have intensified their search for the murderer of Michael Delahant, a Ypsilanti Township man who was gunned down in his home last month.

Ypsilanti police said that the murder of Delahant, 26, was drug-related.

"We believe that the victim was set up by someone in Wayne or the Wayne area," said Lt. Frank Pesta, of the Ypsilanti Police Department. "We are looking for three suspects who broke into the victim's home and gunned him down."

Delahant resided at 5651 Carpenter Road at the time of his death.

On April 20, three men forced their way into the house and shot and killed the victim. One other person in the house at the time was also injured.

Police said that the gunmen were between 5 feet 7 and 5 feet 9 inches. No getaway vehicle was seen. They said that rewards totaling up to $1,000 are being offered for the arrest and conviction of the suspects.

Anyone with information about the slaying is urged to contact Lt. Pesta at 996-3011 or 971-3911. Persons also may telephone Det. Jack Beeson, Michigan State Police Post, Ypsilanti Post, at 482-1413.

HOW TO CUT YOUR DRIVING BY 15 MILES A WEEK

- President Carter has asked us all to drive 15 miles less every week. And if you're like most drivers, you can save 15 miles—and probably a lot more—just by changing your driving habits and planning ahead. Here are five easy ways to save 15 miles:
- Set aside one day a week as your "car-free" day.
- Join a work pool, school pool or shopping pool.
- Trim your driving by two miles a day.
- Think before you drive. Combine trips and measure each trip is necessary.
- Drive with someone who's already on the road—the "buddy driver."

Moirs get backing from National Federation for Blind

A Romulus couple have received a helping hand from a national organization in their efforts to obtain what they feel is proper educational instruction and care for their blind 15-year-old son.

The National Federation for the Blind will sponsor a 10-mile hike-a-thon at 9 a.m. Saturday in Ann Arbor to raise funds for the boy's parents, Sherman and Doris Moir.

The hike-a-thon, which will begin at the Pizza Hut at Carpenter Road and I-23, hopes to generate money to appeal a recommendation made Thursday by public school officials to send Curtis Moir back to the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing, Mrs. Moir said.

Funds raised also will be used hopefully to pay for the boy's continued stay at the Boston Center for Blind Children in Boston, Mass., the mother explained. Both she and her husband say their son finally is getting the right kind of care and instruction at the Boston facility.

The couple's plight made news when they admitted they lied about

Massachusetts residency to get their blind son into the school there.

The Moirs took Curtis to Boston after they said all other educational facilities for blind children in Michigan, plus schools in North Carolina and Arizona, failed to provide adequate instruction and care.

After officials at the Boston school discovered the Moirs were not residents of Massachusetts, the couple was told to come and take the boy. Should the couple decide not to go to Boston, the mother feared she would face possible child abandonment charges.

Last week they contacted Frank Curry, director of special education for the Romulus school system. An Educational Placement Planning Committee (EPPC) meeting was held Thursday to evaluate Curtis' case to determine what the local, county or state schools could do for the Moirs.

Mrs. Moir said the closed meeting was attended by Curry, she and her husband, representatives of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, Paula Kerrigan, Curtis' former teacher at Allen Elementary School in Southgate; Judy Gapp, supervisor from Allen School; and Andrew Krouk, a psychologist.

Mrs. Moir said Kerrigan, Gapp, Krouk and she and her husband were permitted to vote on what to do with Curtis, however, she and her husband's vote counted as one vote, she explained.

The final vote, 3-1, with the Moirs against recommended that Curtis be sent back to the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing. The Moirs voted no because they claim their son was physically abused there.

Mrs. Moir called Allen Harris, president of the National Federation for the Blind in Dearborn. He set up the hike-a-thon for Saturday to assist the Moirs in fighting the decision to have Curtis returned to Lansing.

Told that Mrs. Moir had released details of the closed EPPC session, Curry Monday commented that the purpose of the meeting was to see that Curtis was provided with the best available program. He said he respected the right of the Moirs to get the best education and care for their son and to due process under the law.

He admitted the Moirs face a tough problem. In addition to Curtis, two other sons, Timothy, 16, and Keith, 14, suffer from dyslexia, a vision disorder, and two kidneys on the same side respectively.

Curry said the Lansing school provides educational instruction and around-the-clock care five days a week, but that the Moirs would have to take care of Curtis on the weekends. However, Mrs. Moir wants her son to have around-the-clock care seven days a week, he said.

Curry said school officials had to comply with the way in which laws are set up and had no choice in the matter. He explained that state and federal law followed the line of "least restrictive alternative", a concept that confines handicapped students as little as possible.

Curry said the Moirs are entitled to appeal the EPPC recommendation and said the case could go on for several years to come. He said he gave Mrs. Moir a list of the alternatives available to her under the law and was willing to cooperate with she and her husband in every way.

Because of airport noise

Company wants to relocate in Westland

Proximity of Detroit Metropolitan Airport was blamed by a Romulus firm which was scheduled for a hearing yesterday before the City Council to explain more details of why it wants to move to Westland.

S. C. Hess, president of Structural Testing Services Inc. of 29933 Beverly Road, wrote to the city stating that his company's electronic recording equipment was being affected seriously by the communications systems at the airport.

Also, Hess said, the firm has outgrown its present leased facilities and will require new space in an industrial park.

Hess explained in his letter to the city on April 15 that his company had to get a waiver from Romulus of provisions of State Public Acts 198 and 338.

With the waiver from Romulus, Structural Testing can ask the City of Westland for tax incentives for up to 12 years that will permit it to spend other funds on capital improvements.

Hess said his firm had made every effort to find other space in Romulus, but had failed.

During discussion on the matter, Patrick Hogan, community development director, told council that Romulus never had given the company tax breaks under the two public acts.

Council unanimously approved a motion by Councilman Jimmie Raspberry to ask the firm to come before council to explain its situation.

Councilman Richard Yeramian wanted to know how much in taxes would be lost by the city, while Councilman Gerry Canejo also inquired on how the city's tax base would be affected.

At last night's meeting, council expected to get answers to how long the firm has been in the city, how many persons it employs, and the size of its annual payroll.

In other action, the council:

—Unanimously approved a request for a business license to operate a taxicab company, submitted by Carl Malloy, 26112 Princeton, Inkster;

—Approved by a 6-1 vote, with Councilman Ed Rush voting no, a request from Jack Jackson of 18100 Elwell Road, Belleville, for a permit to operate a carnival from May 8-18 at the lot located next to the 5-Points Bar; Jackson offer to donate 20 percent of the gross proceeds from amusement rides was left up to him, the majority of council feeling it was not ethical to agree for the carnival owner to pay a specified percentage of his ride proceeds to the city;

—Unanimously approved a request from VFW Post 9568 for a no-fee permit to sell buddy poppies on May 15, 16 and 17;

—Unanimously voted to meet at its request with the Romulus Central Business District Association in the first week of June to hear and see a presentation of new street signs for the downtown area;

—Unanimously approved a motion to ask the city's beautification committee to make recommendations on plaques for Fire Station designating it in honor of Joseph Crova; Approved, with Rush abstaining, to grant a permit to the Polka Dot Party Store to operate the concession stand at Elmer Johnson Park.

Mayor's banquet slated

The Romulus Mayor's Exchange Day Banquet will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m. Monday at the Tigris Restaurant and Supper Club, 5845 Merriman Road.

The gala evening will include the social hour, with drinks available at two for the price of one, dinner at 7 p.m. and a program with live entertainment and music at 8 p.m.

The cost will be $7.99 per person and will include a full course dinner with a complimentary glass of wine and choice of entree — prime rib, pickerel or shish kabob.

The entertainment will also include belly dancing and dance music.

Tickets must be purchased, or reservations made, by Friday through the Romulus City Hall.

In Brief

The Romulus Community School District recently received a $7,500 grant to be used in teaching Michigan life competencies.

These competencies are basic survival skills which students will need to become successful citizens. They include transacting business on a credit basis, maintaining a checking account, providing adequate insurance, filing state and federal taxes, budgeting time and money efficiently, parenting, employability skills, housing alternatives and others.

The grant is incentive funding from the State Board of Education through ESEA Title IV-C. Only four similar grants were approved in the State of Michigan. According to Al Sheffield, director of career and vocational education, this grant may be funded by the state for up to three years.

Competency testing took place last year at the senior high school. The test results indicated that an emphasis on teaching students basic survival skills was needed. Now that funds have been approved, instructors will begin teaching units as part of everyday classes in all 14 of the competency areas.

The Romulus Help Center, located at 35085 Goddard Road, will celebrate its eighth year of providing community services with an open house from 1 to 6 p.m. May 15.

The public is invited to visit the center, meet the staff and learn more about the agency.

The Help Center provides counseling to individuals who currently have, or at sometime in the past have had a substance abuse problem. In addition, the agency provides minor home repair, homemaker and chore services to persons 60 years of age and older.

At 7:30 p.m. the same day, the Board of Directors of the Help Center will conduct its annual meeting at the Romulus Senior Center, 36515 Bibbins St. Presentations will be made on the services and accomplishments of the past year. Robert Kobetis, senior planner for Downriver Community Conference Substance Abuse Services Project will be the speaker. The public is invited.

Members of the Romulus Lions Club will be at the Romulus City Hall, located at Goddard and Wayne roads, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. to give away free pine tree seedlings to Romulus residents.

This will be the final day of the give-away, a part of a Romulus beautification program.

The Wayne High School Class of 1950 will be holding a 30-year reunion on July 19. Classmates seeking further information on the gathering should contact Dick Matheny at 728-5114 or 337-7816.

A total of 21 building permits were issued in March by the Romulus Building Department for construction amounting to $483,174, according to George R. Bingham, city engineer and building department director.

A breakdown of permits showed two for single-family houses; 14 for additions and alterations; one for industrial; and four for signs.

The industrial permit is for an industrial building for Kenson-Metro Associates on Ecorse Road between Middlebelt and Inkster roads. Cost of the structure is estimated at $328,533.

Huron High School has announced that two of its electronics students received high honors in the regional Vocational Industrial Clubs of America Skill Olympic competition, held in Detroit recently.

Glen Yeager Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Yeager of Walt Road, New Boston, and Mark Dziekan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dziekan of Ash Road, New Boston, competed in RET's electronic school, in which contestants move from station to station and attempt to determine the malfunction of a television at each location.

Yeager earned a second-place finish and received a silver medal for his electronic diagnostic skill. Dziekan received a third place for his efforts.

Both attend Huron High School and the Down River Consortium Vocational Electronics class in Woodhaven. Both are members of the Vocational Industrial Club of America.

The world-renowned 100-piece Detroit Symphony Orchestra will perform two cabaret pop concerts in the air-conditioned Yack Arena, 3131 Third St., Wyandotte, June 20-21.

Richard Hayman, composer, arranger and conductor, will lead the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for these pop concerts.

Both concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. Reserved tickets, priced at $5.50, are available at the Yack Arena office, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tables are set up to accommodate four persons per table.

For further information, please call the Yack Arena Office at 285-0700.

There will be a meeting at 7:30 p.m. May 22 of the Halecreek Neighborhood Watch in the music room of Halecreek Elementary School, 16200 Harrison Road.

Topic of the meeting will be "Vandalism and Home Security".

Also on the agenda will be the election of a 5-member executive board. Positions open are for chairman, co-chairman, secretary, treasurer and activities chairman.

All residents of the Meadows Subdivision are invited to attend the meeting. For further information contact Jerry Billiter at 942-9660.

The dedication of the bike path along the I-275 expressway will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the rest area on the northbound section between Cherry Hill and Palmer roads in Canton Township.

According to State Rep. Edward Mahalak, a prime mover in getting the bike path built, there will be hundreds of cyclists present for a short ribbon cutting ceremony, highlighted by entertainment and refreshments.

The public is invited to attend.

In the armed forces

Allman completes recruit training

Marine Pvt. Barry L. Queen, the son of Patricia A. Queen of Sylvia Street, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif. During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He also was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards of the Marine Corps.

he also participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in first aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill. A 1979 graduate of Woodhaven High School, he joined the Marine Corps in May 1979.

Also in the armed forces: Airman Dean A. Cox, the son of Helen N. Kidder of Herman Street, Romulus, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training. During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition he earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

Pvt. Arthur G. Duncan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Duncan of Marquee Road, Romulus, recently received a Parachutist Badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. During the first week of training, he underwent a rigorous physical program and received instruction in the theory of parachuting. The second week he received practical training by jumping from 34-foot and 250-foot towers. The final week included five static-line parachute jumps.

Pvt. Duane A. Cofield, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Cofield Sr. of Newberry, Romulus, recently completed advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. This qualified him as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

A 1977 graduate of Romulus High School, Cofield entered the Army in January 1980.

Pvt. Arthur G. Duncan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Duncan of Marquee Road, Romulus, recently was assigned as an engineer in the 18th Airborne Company at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Craig S. Adams, the son of Marleen M. Adams of Taft Ave., Romulus, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of senior airman.

Airman Adams is an aerospace ground equipment specialist at George Air Force Base, here.

The airman is a 1977 graduate of Romulus High School.

DAVID ALLMAN

Pvt. David Allman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allman of Alden Drive, Belleville, recently was assigned as a Recruiter Aide to the U.S. Army Recruiting Station at Metro Place Mall in Wayne.

Pvt. Allman attended Belleville High School and joined the Army in January.

"I joined the Army for the opportunity to travel," he said, "and to get the job I wanted."

Pvt. Allman took his basic training at Fort Leonardwood, Mo., and training as a carpenter-masonry specialist at the same post.

During his 30-day assignment, Pvt. Allman will be talking to local prospects about Army opportunities. Then he will leave for his permanent duty station at Fort McPherson, Ga.

Navy Seaman Recruit James B. Ruark, the son of James A. and Janet B. Ruark of Cordell and Stephanie, respectively, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the 8-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields. Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid.

A 1978 graduate of Romulus High School, he joined the Navy in January.

Haggerty School Cub Scouts 'make music'

In keeping with the April theme of "Let's make music", Cub Scout Pack 821 of Haggerty Elementary School Van Buren Township, saw the production of "Daniel Boone" at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Scouts attending the production were Brian Houghton, Mark Saksewski, Tommy McCleod, Johnny Sulfridge, Frank Trupiano, Bobby Elswort, Jimmy Lewis, and Robbe Clark. Dens mothers present were Sherrie Saksewski and Esther Houghton.

Dens 3 and 4 also visited the Van Buren Township Fire Department last month, as well as visiting the Township Hall on Tyler Road. Helping with the tours were Esther Houghton and Pat Brandon.

Park sets bird tally

The fourth annual May Bird Count will be held at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Saturday at 8 a.m.

The count is an all-day census of the park's bird population. All interested birders are invited to participate for as long as they choose. Naturalist Steve Horn will be in charge of the count. Group leaders will be needed. Participants should meet at the nature center building. Binoculars are essential.

Advanced registration is required as are vehicle entry permits.

For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

Non-Smoking Discount for Homeowners

Statistics Show Non-Smoking Homeowners Are Better Fire Risks!

That's right! Non-smoking homeowners are better fire risks — in some cases up to 25-30% better. Nearly 20% of the fires in one- and two-family dwellings start because of careless smoking or children playing with matches. After carefully reviewing all the numbers, it was clear to us that non-smoking homeowners deserved to have that fact reflected in their rates.

32 top Huron High's honor roll

Thirty-two students attending Huron High School in New Boston have been awarded 4.0 grade point averages for their work during the first marking period of the second semester of the 1979-80 school year.

In tribute

Huron High School's library is sporting a new paperback book rack as the result of a gift from the estate of the late Walter H. Scott. Mr. Scott was a former Huron Township resident and long-time member of the Huron Board of Education. The rack was selected by the library staff to compliment the existing library furnishings. At present it displays some of the new books purchased with State Paperback

Grant money received this year. Looking over the new selection are students Jim Balowski and Dale Chamberlain. A plaque, designed by the art department and made by the plastics department, bears the inscription: "Donated in memory of Walter H. Scott for his lifelong dedication to the Huron Township Schools, Board of Education Member 1932-1955."

Top seniors included Barbara Berger, Todd Gaddy, Debra Grim, Dennis Hudgins, Carol Keeler, Joseph Kemeny, Margaret Lovas, Gary Mavtal, Tammy McErlin, Karen Peer, Artis Peters, Ronald Schwartz, Cynthia Storck, Karen Weber, Theodore Weir and Lynette Will.

Juniors with perfect marks included Theresa Bonner, Margaret Danowski, Brenda Krzyske, Mark Martin, Sheila Owens and Sarah Renton, while the top sophomores were Jennifer Kosacheff, Pamela Michael and Rebecca Minges.

Freshman with perfect averages includes Kristine Brickley, Timothy Johnson, Paul Masson, Stephen Speer, Wade Tackett and Timothy Warner.

Also named to the honor roll were:

Bike trails open

Kensington Metro-park near Milford and Brighton has five miles of bike-hike trails on its 4,300 acres.

The trail begins at the east boat launching site of the park and proceeds past Martindale beach through woods and water bordering Kent Lake and the Huron River, over the Buno Road bridge, up the hills of the central park area, with a long downhill stretch and another high hill, past Maple beach, the boat rental area and through woods near Island Road just east of the nature center building.

The bike-bike trail is one of the most scenic trails in southeastern Michigan.

Visitors transporting bicycles, should park in the picnic area parking lots.

For information contact Kensington Metropark at 2240 W. Buno Road, Milford 48042, or call 685-1561.

Supersewer Phase II gets EPA funding OK

The long-awaited "supersewer" in planning for nearly 20 years for servicing Western Wayne County is a step nearer to reality with announcement May 2 of $5 million of federal funds for preparation of construction plans.

Besides that amount from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the approving authority along with the County Board of Public Works, the total financing also includes $811,765 for further study of a possible addition to the wastewater system and $2 million from 16 local communities sharing the costs and benefits of the project.

The federal grant and other funding was announced by County Commissioner William Sullivan, chairman of the Board of Public Works, who said that total cost of the project is estimated at $200 million and will employ 2,000 workers for up to three years.

He said that planning and design studies will begin immediately and are scheduled for completion in November 1981. Except for part of the plan still under study north of Joy Road, actual construction could begin in May 1982 and will be in operation by May 1985.

Sullivan stressed that the project is both an environmental and economic advantage for Wayne County and southeast Michigan. He noted that most of the funding is, outside capital coming into the areas, that as many as 50 of the new jobs created will be permanent, and that only 15 percent of the entire cost will be spent for services or materials from outside the state.

However, both Sullivan and the chairman of the Board of Commissioners, Samuel A. Turner, emphasized that health hazards and health protection are the main reasons for adoption of the project.

Sullivan called the project "long overdue" and said that almost every community in the affected areas has exceeded or is near its wastewater disposal limit. Among the examples he mentioned:

—The Flat Rock-Huron communities have exceeded the capacity of the Flat Rock Treatment Plant which is discharging effluent to the Huron River at a rate three times the design capacity of the plant. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) has imposed a sewer extension ban in the area.

—The Plymouth-Northville-Novi communities discharge to a 40-year old interceptor sewer which, on at least one occasion, has overflowed to the Middle Rouge River. The MDNR has threatened to impose a sewer connection ban in the area, if positive steps are not taken to relieve this interceptor.

—Outdated treatment plants serving the Rockwood, Brownstown, Gibraltar and Woodhaven communities are extremely expensive to operate and have difficulty achieving the effluent standards established by the MDNR. The MDNR has threatened to impose sewer extension bans in this area also, if the treatment is not upgraded.

—Strict limitations on discharge of nutrients to the Upper Huron River have made local treatment of wastewater in Commerce Township prohibitively expensive and high water tables in Sumpter Township have caused septic tanks to discharge to open ditches.

—The Canton and Van Buren communities area fast approaching the capacities which they purchased in the Rouge Valley and Downriver Disposal Systems in 1960.

Board Chairman Turner praised the project for reaching a stage of development that he said could not have been predicted even two years ago. He congratulated the local communities involved for "tightening their belts" to provide their share of funds.

"The priority here was health," he said. "This project was a must, a definite necessity. Probably far too many people fail to realize what this means in terms of real health to thousands of our citizens."

"It was the primary concern of the Board of Commissioners in supporting this project and urging it forward that the health of our citizens be protected. Beyond that it is a plus that we have generated this infusion of cash into our economy at a time when it is needed."

Economy affects blood donations

Economic downturns this fall and winter have seriously depleted the amount of blood able to be donated by groups at business and industry locations. Fortunately, members of the community-at-large have so far seen the southeastern Michigan region through this potentially devastating period by responding to American Red Cross appeals for blood donations.

However, as winter turns to spring and summer, Red Cross Blood Services faces a traditional problem that could devastatingly compound the problem we face with blood collections as a result of the economy.

The problem is, strangely, summer leisure and recreation. More people want to go on vacation, to enjoy the warm and sunny weather. Fewer people think about giving blood. It's a traditional summertime problem for Red Cross Blood Services, but because of the slump we're already in, it could be more than a problem this year. It could be catastrophic. Red Cross urges everyone in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties to remember to give blood.

Brochures published

The Michigan Department of Labor's Youth Employment Clearinghouse has published two brochures to help youths find summer jobs.

One brochure tells state businesses how to take advantage of federal hiring incentives that give tax credits for hiring and training young people. Businesses can qualify for a federal tax credit of up to 50 percent of the first year's wages up to $6,000 by hiring youth and meeting certain requirements. This brochure also explains some of the legal facts about hiring youth.

The other brochure, directed at youths, explains how to go about finding a job, what hours youths can work, and how to act and what to say during an interview.

The brochures are available by writing the Michigan Department of Labor, Youth Employment Clearinghouse, 7150 Harris Drive, Box 30015, Lansing 48909.

As the old saying goes: "It doesn't hurt if you do, but it could hurt if you don't."

The College Scene

Glaab to be Madonna's class salutatorian

JOANN GLAAB

JoAnn Glaab of Romulus was nominated class salutatorian of the 33rd graduating class of Madonna College in Livonia.

Ms. Glaab received a bachelor of science degree in nursing with highest honors.

Other Romulus degree recipients were Annette Bell, bachelor of science in criminal justice; Jane DeLoe, bachelor of arts in gerontology; and Audrey Szylander, bachelor of science in nursing.

Ms. Szylander also was nominated for membership to Kappa Gamma Pi, an national women's leadership and scholastic honor society of Catholic colleges.

Also on the college scene: Five Belleville-Romulus collegians cum laude degrees during the April 19 commencement ceremonies at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Honors graduates include Marie L. LeVan of Romulus, bachelor of science degree; Kathleen Joice Memering of Belleville; bachelor of science degree; Glenn D. Suemnick of New Boston, bachelor of business administration degree; Audrey Darlene Tabor of Belleville, bachelor of science; and Anabel Crow Trum of Romulus, bachelor of science.

Also receiving degrees were Belleville residents Edward James Fisher, bachelor of science; Linda Lee Koger, bachelor of business administration; Joan Miller, bachelor of business administration; Sandra Jo Sheremet, bachelor of science; Allison Dawn Slavick, bachelor of science; and Aileen Kathleen Wehrin, bachelor of business administration.

The Romulus degree recipients included JoAnn DiMartino, bachelor of business administration; Charles Dean Richardson, bachelor of science; Barbara Ann Scrimizzi, bachelor of science; and Judy Kay Shellenbarger, bachelor of science.

Two New Boston residents were among 671 persons to be awarded degrees at Northern Michigan University's spring commencement April 26.

Degree recipients included John Niemann of Waltz Road, New Boston, bachelor of arts; and Judy Pardeike of Carleton West, New Boston, bachelor of science in mass communications.

Jon L. Hancotte, of Lenmore

Street, Belleville, has been awarded a National Merit Scholarship for Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

The Belleville High School student plans to major in chemistry at Western Michigan.

A member of the National Honor Society, Hancotte has attended Wolverine Boys States as a representative, been on the varsity football team for two years, managed the varsity softball team and played junior varsity baseball and football.

At Belleville he has been involved with symphonic band for three years and has been a member of the Bicycle Club.

Romulus resident Susan Johnson, a junior, has earned a spot on the Student Association at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

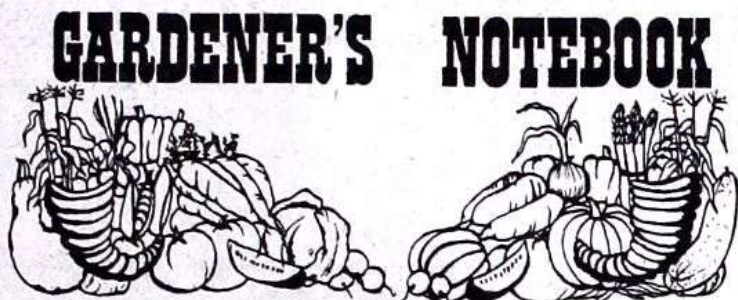

Ms. Johnson, the daughter of J. Kenneth and Doris Johnson of Romulus, is director of communications for the association.

Joseph G. Klaes of West Road and Judith Edge of Huron River Drive, both of New Boston were awarded degrees during the April 27 commencement ceremonies at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Both collegians received bachelor of science degrees.

Belleville resident Karen E. Krug of Ryznar Road, has been awarded a scholarship for next fall at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

The scholarship, one of several awarded by the university, was presented based on Ms. Krug's outstanding high school academic record. She will be a freshman at CMU in the fall.

Seed packets can't tell you everything! From Michigan State University Extension horticulture specialists come tips on growing lettuce, spinach and radishes.

Where to plant: Greens and root crops are more tolerant of shade than most other garden crops. If part of the garden is shaded for part of the day, plant lettuce, spinach and other greens there. Radishes will tolerate partial shade, but full sun is better. Lettuce and spinach do best in a well drained, not too acid soil high in organic matter. The soil for radishes should be thoroughly worked to a depth of at least 6 inches, and rocks and other objects removed before planting.

When to plant: Plant seeds of lettuce, spinach and radishes as soon as the ground is dry enough to work. All these crops do best in cool weather. In hot weather, lettuce and spinach quickly stop producing leaves and go to seed. Radishes tend to flower during long summer days, also, maggots are more of a problem on late-planted radishes. To avoid having all your crop ready for harvest at once, plant a few feet of row every 10 to 14 days (until mid June) for a continuous supply. These cool-weather crops can also be planted in late July or August for a fall harvest.

How to plant: Sow radish seeds 1/2 inch deep at a rate of 15 per foot in rows 12 inches apart. Plant lettuce and spinach seeds 1/4 inch deep in a 6-inch band, with seeds about 1/2 inch apart. Rows should be 18 inches apart.

How to grow: Thin lettuce and spinach to 4 to 5 inches between plants when they start to crowd one another. The thinned plants can be used in salads or sandwiches. Water during dry weather.

When to harvest: Round red radishes are the closest thing to instant gratification for the gardener. Common varieties mature about three weeks after seeding. Long white radishes mature in about 28 days. Harvest as soon as the radishes reach the desired size — they tend to split if left in the ground too long. Lettuce and spinach may be harvested as soon as the leaves are big enough to use. Leave the roots undisturbed and plants will keep producing leaves until they flower and go to seed or get killed by a hard freeze.

Poetry competition set

A $1,000 grand prize will be awarded in the sixth annual Poetry Competition, sponsored by the World of Poetry, a quarterly newsletter for poets.

Poems of all styles and on any subject are eligible to compete for the grand prize or for 49 other cash or merchandise awards.

Poetry editor Eddie-Lou Cole said: "We are encouraging poetic talent of every kind, and expect our contest to produce exciting discoveries — like Virginia Bates, a housewife from Woodbine, Md. She won our grand prize last year with her poem PIETA, about her son in Viet Nam."

Rules and official entry forms are available from World of Poetry, 2431 Stockton, Dept. N, Sacramento, Calif. 95817.

Planning a picnic?

Picnicking is one of the major sources of recreation at the 10 metroparks serving the citizens of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Groups of 50 persons or more should contact the park of their choice to help make advance arrangements. No reservations are available, but park personnel can advise groups of the best sites available for their needs, especially if facilities are needed on weekends or holidays.

For information contact Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens at 963-3022 or 463-4581, Stony Creek Metropark near Utica at 781-4242, Kensington Metropark near Milford at 685-1581, Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter at 426-8211 and Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville at 697-9181.

Metropark brochures, including facility location maps, are available at the metropark offices for large group outings.

WHAT IS "THE LIVING WILL?"

"The Living Will" is a special form of will which has been designed for those who do not wish extreme methods of keeping their bodies alive should they become terminally ill. In part, it reads as follows:

"To my family, my physician, my lawyer and all others whom it may concern: ... If at such a time the situation should arise in which there is no reasonable expectation of my recovery from extreme physical or mental disability, I direct that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by medications, artificial means, or heroic measures ... This statement is made after careful consideration and is in accordance with my strong convictions and beliefs."

It concludes with the signature, date, two witnesses, as well as a list of those who have received a copy of "The Living Will."

"The Living Will" can be obtained by writing to: Concern for Dying, 250 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019. One copy is sent free, but donations are welcome.

For eligible veterans

Vietnam bonus application deadline is June 30

Time is running out for Vietnam veterans who have yet to apply for the state's Vietnam Veterans Era Bonus.

In operation since 1975, the bonus program has an application deadline of June 30. Eligible applicants are entitled to $15 for each month of service up to a maximum of $450. Veterans eligible to receive the Vietnam Service Medal, or Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal, are entitled to a $600 bonus.

To date nearly 368,500 combat and noncombat veterans have been awarded $172.5 million in bonus money since the program began.

Veterans did not have to participate directly in the Vietnam Conflict to be eligible. Active service anywhere in the world would qualify. Basic eligibility requirements are 190 days of active duty between Jan. 1, 1961, and Sept. 1, 1973; Michigan residency for at least six months immediately prior to entry into active duty, or Michigan residency while on active duty, for at least six months immediately prior to Jan. 1, 1961; and honorable service.

Eligible next of kin also are entitled to receive the same bonus that the deceased veteran, or veteran listed as missing in action, would have received.

The next-of-kin qualification be in the order of (1) to the surviving husband or wife. If there is no surviving husband or wife, then the bonus would go to (2) the surviving child or children (in equal shares). If there is no surviving child or children, the bonus would go to (3) the surviving dependent mother. If there is no surviving dependent mother, then the bonus would be awarded to the dependent surviving father.

Veterans with bad discharges, who previously applied for the bonus and were denied due to the character of service and who have since had their discharged upgraded, can now re-apply.

Reservists who after completing active duty for training and went directly on an active duty tour, without a break in pay status, may now count the active duty for training toward the 190-day active duty requirement.

Application packets for the Vietnam Veterans Era Bonus are available at the Michigan Employment Security Commission offices throughout the state, or can be requested by writing the Vietnam Bonus Section, Department of Military Affairs, 2500 S. Washington, Lansing 48913. The telephone number is (517) 373-7320.

Construction manager approved by board

The construction management firm of Barton-Malow has been chosen by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners as the most qualified to oversee remaining construction on the new county jail.

Although still to be approved by the full board, the firm has been evaluated by a special county selection committee, the Board of Auditors Buildings Division, and the Public Works Committee as well as by all 27 commissioners while sitting as the Ways and Means Committee on April 24.

The firm was chosen from seven candidates, including Gough-Darin and, Armstrong, rated second in preference, and R. E. Daily and Company, third.

According to the recommendations approved by the Ways and Means Committee, "These three firms are the most knowledgeable and capable to perform the duties required for this project, having completed other construction projects in this area in a timely manner and within budget."

The chief concept of a construction-management approach, as contrasted with a general construction contractor, is project completion guaranteed within a fixed fee. Under the construction-management program, the firm overseeing the project must absorb all costs beyond the fixed fee.

Procedure now calls for the Buildings Division to negotiate a fee with Barton-Malow. If agreement cannot be reached, fee negotiations will then continue with the other firms in order of preference.

Upon agreement, the fee must in turn be approved by the Board of Commissioners with the written contract subject to approval of the Office of Corporation Counsel and Department of Human Relations, which administers equal employment and affirmative action conditions required of subcontractors.

The construction-management procedure was decided by the board after numerous problems and delay in the first and second stage construction, including underground water collection and discovery of a submerged concrete structure, interfered with building of the jail foundation.

Employees Honored

Romulus residents John and Mary Forton were among 1,230 employees of the J.L. Hudson Co. who were honored at the firm's 25-Year Club banquet Jan. 29.

The festivities are held annually to honor those employees who have served the company for 25 years or more. This year the banquet was held in the Renaissance Ballroom of the Detroit Plaza Hotel.

The Fortons are involved in the corporate operations of the department store chain.

St. Joe's provides health screenings

A series of free hearing screenings for the general public will be sponsored by the Catherine McAuley Health Center (CMHC) during May, which is national "Better Hearing and Speech Month."

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and the Maple Medical Center—both units of CMHC—will offer the hearing tests at no charge on the Fridays in May.

The hearing tests are designed to tell people whether they have a hearing problem. Further testing will be recommended for those who record a hearing deficiency. All participants will be told the results of their tests and family physicians will receive written notice of their patients who need further evaluation.

Located on Huron River Drive between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will hold the tests in its Education Center lobby from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Fridays. The Maple Medical Center, located on the corner of Maple and Dexter roads, Ann Arbor, will hold the tests 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays.

Appointments are not required. Further information on the free public hearing screenings at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital may be obtained by calling the Audiology Department at 572-3816 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. For the testing at the Maple Medical Center call, 662-5626.

Editorial opinions

Not a 'cop' out

For every week in the year there is someone or something being honored.

This week is no exception. For some it is National Small Business Week; for others it is National Police Week.

The latter recognition has received little publicity, so there will be too few proclamations signed to honor those officers who put their lives on the line so that we can leave our homes and families in safety each day.

Tucked away within National Police Week is a special day when communities are asked to remember those officers who have died in the line of duty. Since 1960, when the Police Hall of Fame began its honor roll of the dead, close to 2,000 men and women have died.

This is the start of a new decade, and maybe it's time we reassess our attitude towards police officers. In the turbulent years of the late 1960s and early 1970s, it became vogue to call them "pigs," "Fascist pigs." Civil disobedience was almost an acceptable form of behavior. Abusiveness towards those men and women we asked to enforce the laws of the land was condoned, if not encouraged, at times.

It's 1980, and it's time we change our attitudes.

Police officers have upgraded their profession; they have pride in their work. Granted they do make mistakes and errors in judgment, but we must remember they are only human. It is presumptuous on our part to expect police officers to have the patience of Job, the wisdom of Solomon, the courage of Richard the Lion-hearted, and be as close to godliness as possible.

It is not a "cop" out to say they are human, that they will, and do, make errors of judgment. How many times have we zigged instead of zagging?

During this week set aside for police officers, let them know, if anything, just one thing: We appreciate the job they are doing.

Michigan Week

Area residents, especially those in Romulus, beginning Saturday, will join hundreds of thousands of state citizens in observing the 27th annual celebration of Michigan Week.

Most Michigan communities put primary emphasis on the exchange of its top officials for one day, which this year will fall on Government Day, Monday, May 19.

But, one community in our midst, Romulus, for four consecutive years has staged a gala celebration for the full eight days of Michigan Week. A planned schedule of events highlights each special day and Romulus residents make it a worthwhile occasion by their wholehearted participation.

Government Day will be concluded in Romulus with a mayors exchange banquet that evening at the Tigris Restaurant, Van Born and Merriman roads, an event open to the public for a nominal charge.

For their herculean efforts over the last four years, Romulus citizens are to be warmly commended. Those in other communities would do well to emulate their dedication.

These once-a-year outgrowths of Michigan Week are a healthy tonic to Michigan residents emerging from the grip of winter and looking forward to enjoying the state's myriad number of summer recreational and water activities.

Michigan Week represents the combined elbow grease, vision and pride of its citizens in making it an annual success. We cannot say enough in its behalf. We heartily endorse its observance and call upon increased participation by more of our state's residents.

Cutbacks not the answer

By MATTHEW E. LIPINSKI

It always happens, doesn't it? Dollars and cents dictate educational programs rather than steadfast professional commitments in the students' best interests. As a citizen of the community of Romulus, and as a teacher and coach at Romulus High School, I am deeply concerned about the massive program cuts proposed by interim superintendent Marvin Fischer to the board of education last Monday night. I share board member Evelyn Hopewell's reaction to these proposals in that they will "gut our total educational program." I believe that many adults within our community share these feelings and judging from what I have heard in school this week, it is very apparent that a great many students are genuinely, deeply concerned. They have reason to be.

The focus of my concern is centered on the athletic program, something that is a necessity in high school — in any high school. In the 1976-77 school year, athletics were cut in this school district. Accomplished by that action was the exodus from the Romulus schools of numerous student-athletes, many of whom were prospective college ballplayers. In the last three years Romulus coaches have worked — and have worked hard — to rebuild our teams and restore them as true competitors among our opponents. In this venture, I believe the coaches have been reasonably successful.

Our basketball teams have had winning seasons and have participated in district playoffs for the last two years. The baseball team had a fine season last year with some of its players now occupying college rosters. In football, although we were "below .500", the 1980 season holds much promise with more athletes interested and involved than in either of the last two years. In fact, a number of teachers have remarked that there is more student interest in athletics this year than ever in recent memory. Can we afford to stop this momentum now? The superintendent's office might reply: "We can't afford not to."

I believe it is time to ask some straightforward questions and to do some thorough research. Why, only a month ago, was it publicly stated by the interim superintendent at a board of education meeting that we could continue to offer our present educational program for another year without a millage increase if the teachers (then striking) would accept the board's offer of 26% over the next three years? The teachers have now returned to work without a contract settlement and yet massive cuts are proposed.

Is the community of Romulus doomed to a "few years on — one year off" athletic program in the future? Do we have the right to remove and silence this portion of a student's education?

It is common knowledge that one can learn as much about life, about working with others, about self-discipline, and about reaching a goal, on a court, a diamond, a track, or a gridiron as can be learned in a classroom — maybe more.

Is it fair to prevent the possibility of a student's participation in future college athletics by now halting his progress in high school? And finally, is it fair to deny our student-athletes available scholarship monies, without which some may never be able to attend college? It is, quite simply, not fair.

The central administration is concerned about operating money.

I challenge the board to review the following: Compare the athletic budget to the total budget. Then review the decrease in enrollment we suffered when we last dropped athletics, and decreases suffered by other school districts in similar situations. From this information, project 1980-81 enrollment figures. I think it will be found that we will not only lose state aid because we will have fewer students, but also that further enrollment decreases will facilitate even greater cutbacks.

The Other Side of the Meridian

'Doc' was good copy always

By TOM MOORADIAN
Acting Managing Editor

"He would like you to do a story about Wayne County General Hospital," the voice on the telephone said.

"You mean the Doc's back there?"

"Yes..." the voice paused. "We weren't taking any chances. I thought I had better get him back to the hospital as soon as possible."

The voice belonged to Mrs. Doris Carpenter, whose husband, Clarence, was one of the oldest medical general practitioners in the area if not the state.

"Doc," as most called him, passed away last weekend, the victim of an apparent heart attack. He was 86. He had been hospitalized earlier in the month because of a heart ailment, but released.

There will be many eulogies about this man who chose a profession that is dedicated to heal the afflicted, that has no room for intellectual aridity, and demands from its members a code of ethics second to none.

My last discussion with him was at a Romulus Chamber of Commerce luncheon where he and his lovely wife, Doris, discoursed on a variety of pleasurable and some controversial topics. The "Doc" appeared irked at the stalemate over Romulus board of education and teacher contract talks. He felt at the time that the newspaper had a responsibility to present "both sides of the issue" and we, of course, felt that we were.

A distinguished-looking gentleman who was impeccably-dressed, "Doc" Carpenter was never reckless with his words. He thought before he spoke, unlike many who speak and then think.

"Doc wanted to talk to you about the hospital and its staff," Mrs. Carpenter said. "You know that Wayne County General is in trouble — it may close down. But he wants you to know that the hospital is making money, and they are funneling money away from the hospital to their other agencies."

I informed Mrs. Carpenter that I would gladly meet with "the Doc" and the medical staff to discuss WCGH's problems. (The county is mired in $18 million in debt and county commissioners are scrambling to raise funds — and taxes — to stay afloat. The county, in fact, will be asking voters for three additional mills this August to shore up the loose economic ends).

There is another story about "Doc" I would like to share with my readers. The incident occurred many years ago when a young reporter was assigned to do a feature story on him.

In those days the reporter also had the additional responsibility of "making up" the page, and when I got hold of the newspaper the day after publication, I noted the entire front page was devoted to Dr. Carpenter.

Astonished that the entire page had but one story, I asked, "what happened? No news?"

"Oh, no," replied the reporter. "Doc Carpenter is so interesting. I just didn't know where to stop."

That was Dr. Clarence Carpenter, indeed. Always interesting. Always good copy — right to the end.

That a newspaper reflects the character of a community is a frequent saying we've heard in these parts by many who have sat on this side of the typewriter. But I do not understand, and I know the good people who wrote me this following letter will agree, why and what kicks kids get out of what they do nowadays.

Betty and Gabriel Lada write: "It is difficult to find the words to express the chagrin that we feel as we write this letter."

"We are proud of our American Heritage and have tried to express our feelings of patriotism by flying the American Flag in front of our home on every day possible for the past 10 years since moving to our current home."

"In that time a number of flags have weathered and been cheerfully replaced even to the point of investing in a somewhat expensive, heavy duty flag."

"This afternoon we discovered to our dismay, that the flag and pole were again stolen while we were shopping. We would be happy to find out that these flags are taken by someone who also wishes to have one to display in the proper manner. However, we are concerned that there are individuals around who resent 'old-fashioned' displays of patriotism and resort to acts of vandalism."

"Should this letter be read by those responsible, we hope it will influence them to alter their ways and to be more concerned about someone else's feelings."

Don't count on it. People who steal, don't have time to read.

My turn

What happened when a businessman took Council at its word:

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

Caution and conservatism are two qualities that characterize the people and politics of Wayne.

City leaders are proud they don't rush headlong into new issues or projects. They take the slow and deliberate approach, and look askance at neighboring communities that too often get in over their heads, or never see their grand, but hasty schemes come true.

The City of Wayne gets its business done. Done well. Probably because it sacrifices break-neck speed for careful study and informed decision-making.

But caution and conservatism have overstayed their welcome on at least one "issue" in Wayne recently. The issue may not in itself have far-reaching implications, or even be particularly important to any citizen but those directly involved. But perhaps it shows which way the wind is blowing, or isn't blowing, in council decision-making. And that's why it's important.

The subject is a request by William Burton, owner of Burton's Plumbing and Heating on Michigan Avenue, to get a tax break on improvements and additions he's doing to his business.

He's appealing to the city as the first businessman to ask for consideration under a state law, Public Act 255. The council can, according to the law, give a merchant a tax "break" by freezing the assessed value of the building for up to 12 years. He won't be taxed, then, on the renovation even though the worth of the building will increase.

The city will lose taxes it would have gotten from the improvement, as well as on the rest of the building if inflation or other factors increases the value of the existing part of the building.

Many cities have used this tax abatement, and a similar one for new industry, to encourage new construction, expansion and remodeling in their communities.

The cities take a loss of potential and even actual future revenue, but for one reason or another feel it's worth it.

It's about time for the Wayne City Council to set some priorities and decide if it's "worth it" to give Burton, and other retailers, some help. The council ought to realize that its whole attitude toward its business community will be characterized in this decision.

The Wayne City Council first heard Burton's plan back in mid-February, and began the legal steps to consider his petition.

Last week, Burton was back before the council for the third time, nearing the end of the 60-day time period allotted for the council to decide. To say that the council wasn't prepared to make a decision is merciful understatement. Seems the item hadn't even made it onto the agenda until the last minute, because somehow the city administration thought Burton had verbally withdrawn his petition. Well, he hadn't, at least not in writing (and the way he emphasized that point makes me tend to think perhaps he had verbally given the city the idea he was backing off), and he was at the meeting looking for an answer.

Confused as to what they wanted to do, the council finally sent their city attorney out into the hall with Burton to huddle over how they could delay the decision again, without breaking the 60-day time limit rule.

Burton finally agreed to amend his application and give the city 60 more days to decide.

It sure looks like the city council just doesn't want to make that decision, that first decision on an Act 255 petition.

Regarding this specific case, I think they've put Mr. Burton through enough waiting. He's all but begged for the city's help, and he's already done a lot of the work on his business. Burton did a lot of his own research and paperwork on the application, he's bent over backwards to please the city. He's been in town a long time and plans to stay here. And he's located on Michigan Avenue, right on Wayne's "front porch," as Councilman Milt Mack put it. Improvement to his business would be a welcome to the downtown.

Why the city can't cut losses with a little tax relief for this businessman is frankly beyond me. They did it for "big business" — Ajax Rolled Ring Company and Massey-Ferguson under Act 198.

Oh, I understand that the city would lose some potential revenue for a certain number of years, probably not the full 12 because I'm sure the council would never go that far.

But when is this council going to stop the lip service and start the actual commitment when it comes to revitalizing the business districts in town?

If I've heard it once I've heard it a thousand times that the businesses in Wayne have got to remodel and renovate to get this town back onto its proud feet.

Mr. Burton's case represents one small way the city council can start doing something, to form that highly-touted "partnership" with the business community.

Perhaps there are good, legitimate and wise reasons why the council should deny this application. Perhaps there is a lot more to this story than meets the eye. But council members so far have been hard-pressed to come up with those reasons.

They talk sagely about how this application is the first, and will set precedent for future applicants, and it seems they're worried that Ford Motor Company will get wind of Act 255 and ask for huge tax breaks from the city.

I admit I don't understand all the implications of Act 255, and from discussion at the council meeting, there apparently are cities that are regretting granting some abatements.

But if you're going to deny Mr. Burton, do it.

And let him and the rest of the business community hear the reasons. Right now, it just looks like the so-called "studying" of the plan is becoming stalling. How things "look" to the public are as important as how things "are."

Take the plunge, council. There are people watching.

Flags views misquoted

EDITOR: Because of the total misrepresentation displayed in an editorial in an area newspaper concerning my position on the use of the American Flag, and the follow-up letter written by Frank Chakrabarty printed in all the area papers, I am forced to write this rebuttal.

The reporter misquoted my comments, pulling them out of context and manipulating my answers to his questions, such that the actual and true content of my responses was not reflected. The editorial is even written in such a manner that his own personal views appear to be mine, which is not the case. As written, the comments and opinions reflected in that editorial must all belong to the writer as they are definitely not mine.

I never said or alluded that the American Flag should not be flown on Ford Rd. or anywhere else. When asked if individuals were taking advantage of using the flag and, in essence, misusing the American Flag, shouldn't something be done at that point, my response was that people should not TAKE ADVANTAGE OF the flag. I never even indicated what I considered taking advantage would be. However, the reporter felt obliged to do so in his editorial and then made it appear I was in agreement with his comments, which I am not.

To take advantage of the American Flag, in my opinion, is to misuse it. Personally, I would like to see the American Flag flying at every business and residence in Canton. But, I cannot believe any American citizen would want any individual misusing our flag.

I hope the citizens of Canton understand what has transpired and that I would never suggest restricting individuals from appropriately flying the American Flag.

Since the reporter will not apologize for his incorrect article, I must apologize to Canton residents, such as Frank Chakrabarty, for being manipulated by such a misleading article.

Landfill is full of it

EDITOR: In my opinion, in this day and age you get nothing free. Everyone seems to think that the landfill is a necessity in our neighborhood. That to have it in our neighborhood is a blessing in disguise. Not so.

If we didn't have the landfill in our neighborhood we would be taxed more dollars. Is it possible that we can be taxed anymore for nothing? We are now paying through the nose because of the landfill. The landfill is the profiteer, a multimillion dollar business. Yet only one percent of their profits goes back into the area that it pollutes and destroys.

It is also said in the northend "stat" sheet that the landfill reimburse the residents surrounding the landfill for imposing their filth and stench on the residents, if this is. Let the residents who are for the landfill change places with the residents that are corralled by this monster.

The Wayne Jaycees do many projects for our city that too many times go unnoticed. At this time I would like to publicly thank the Wayne Jaycees, Jayteens, and Jayettes for their co-sponsorship of the 1980 Huckleberry Finn Fishing Derby.

Because of the unselfishness of all three groups, the Fishing Derby was a success again this year.

Thank you, Jaycees!

Turn on consideration

EDITOR: I have just spent another weekend "hearing" my inconsiderate neighbor's music. I realize that it is "Spring" — I also realize that we have our individual taste in music.

But I'm tired of hearing their music from 10 in the morning till way into the evening.

My neighbor has created a "headache" situation. I don't lambast him with my choice of music. Why must he continue to do so to me? (Even after a request to lower the decibels).

We all have to live in this neighborhood together — why not try to make it a pleasure?

Please withhold my name — I have lived here in Westland for a long time.

Congratulations on auction

EDITOR: I'd like to take this opportunity to commend the students of W.S.D.P. and their advisors, Mr. John Seidelman, Mr. Jeffrey Cardinal, Miss Kathy Allen and Mr. Paul Sincok on the success of their first annual auction. Not only did they exceed their goal of $3,000, but they also realized some excellent publicity for W.S.D.P. and Centennial Park. What a great learning experience!

My thanks too, to all of the area merchants and citizens who contributed so generously to the auction. Your support is appreciated.

EDITOR: On behalf of myself and the Canton Jaycees, we would like to thank you for having Jim Bradley as our community reporter. Mr. Jim Bradley, in the last six months, has helped me more than any other reporter in two years. Jim's desire to work with community organizations to help them get public support is very commendable. It is very encouraging to do work in your community knowing it won't go

Welcome back, Lothar

By JIM BRADLEY

Loquacious Lothar is back.

Just about everybody in Western Wayne County is acquainted in some way with the antics of Lothar Konietzko, chief shutterbug of Associated Newspapers. The lovable German was seriously injured in an automobile accident a couple years ago and underwent extensive therapy and rehabilitation to be able to walk again without the use of a cane.

When they pulled Lothar from his mangled Volkswagen, he was more dead than alive and doctors didn't think he would pull through. But Lothar's indomitable spirit won out and the veteran of 25 years of picture-taking for Associated Newspapers reported back to work on Monday morning. He was as light-hearted and chipper as ever.

I remember back a few years ago when I resumed writing for this chain of newspapers full time. Lothar was always suggesting subjects for my column and there was some bad news coming out of Romulus at that time.

"Why don't you write something about the 'violence' taking place in Romulus?" he asked, referring to a rash of unfortunate incidents plaguing the city.

Lothar's suggestion was on the "back-burner" until I got a hurry-up call from the editor to cover a meeting of local postmasters in Romulus. He said I could ride with Lothar, and who could pass up an opportunity to ride in Lothar's Volkswagen?

That's an experience in itself — riding with this interesting camera character. Lothar is known far and wide through Wayne County, and even the state of Michigan for the numerous photography awards and honors he has won.

He's especially known in the areas where Associated Newspapers are circulated — Wayne, Westland, Canton, Belleville, Inkster, Romulus and Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships. Mention the name "Lothar" and just about everyone who knows anything about their town knows who you're talking about.

Lothar was born in Germany and suffered under Hitler's regime. He saw first hand man's inhumanity to man and the horrors of war. When he came to this country and started working for Associated Newspapers, he couldn't speak a word of English. I'm told he needed an interpreter when he first started shooting pictures, but he learned fast and has become the most identifiable symbol of Associated Newspapers. At one time, Tony Spina, chief photographer of the Detroit Free Press, asked Lothar to come and work for that daily newspaper.

Lothar's been taking pictures of all kinds of civic, club and social events in Wayne County for the past 25 years and was honored by community leaders last year on his "silver anniversary" of dedicated service. He's the Prince Charming of the senior citizens, the laughing, good-natured darling of the service clubs he frequents so often, snapping pictures of familiar faces he's known for years.

Lothar's hair is now tinged with strands of white but he retains his unbounded enthusiasm despite the passing years. And his sensitivity to people and their needs is still as acute as ever.

Perhaps that's why it's such a pleasure to be with Lothar and share his excitement with life — even though he's been disappointed and hurt many times by those he has helped.

Lothar and I buzzed along in his freshly painted bright red VW to this assignment in Romulus. His car gleamed like a large tomato in the sun. We covered the meeting at a well-known motel near Metropolitan Airport and ate in their luxurious dining room.

When we emerged from the Inn, Lothar noticed something on the middle of his car door. A large print from someone's boot had been jammed against the passenger's door, and over on the driver's door three large unsightly nicks marred the new paint. Someone had seen Lothar's auxiliary camera case on the back seat of the VW and tried to jam their way into the car to steal it.

Lothar, sentimental soul that he is, just stared at his damaged car in disbelief. "Why would anyone want to do a dirty trick like that!" he asked, slowly shaking his head as he tried to make himself believe it hadn't actually happened.

Ironically, it was Lothar who had received a tip of the important meeting of local postmasters and passed the news along to the managing editor who assigned him to the story. And I was sent along to cover the story while Lothar shot the pictures — a job he does as well as anyone in the state.

Actually, when Lothar suggested I write about unfortunate incidents happening in Romulus, I never thought I'd end up writing about it. Even less did I ever imagine that Lothar would be with me when I did write about it — and even wind up being the victim.

But that's the sign of a good newspaperman like Lothar. He not only reports the news — he actually makes it happen.

It's a joy to have him back.

Holy men and little sisters

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Last night I kissed my two sisters goodbye as they left after a two week visit from the beautiful, rugged west. As I watched them disappear through the doors, watched the huge plane bank slowly away from the building, and at last watched as it took off into the clouds, bank towards the left and disappear, I fought a lump in my throat and wiped away the tears threatening to spoil my makeup.

For two weeks we have laughed and talked and reminisced.

We had, once again, been three girls bound together by family and that unexplainable something that cements the bonds of siblings.

And we had even argued occasionally. And now they were gone and we all knew it would be months, maybe years, before we would be together again.

My little sisters, who even though they stood several inches above me, would forever remain my little sisters for me to care about, fuss over and love, and generally make myself obnoxious, as they have always been quick to point out if the mother-smothering got too overwhelming.

My sister who is closest to me in age, always resented a little bit when I took too seriously the admonition from my mother when she sent us out to play, saying, "Take care of little sister, Joyce," and little sister didn't feel that fifteen months difference made me all that much wiser or sharper than she. But I worked hard to keep the faith and mind my mother.

There was in the town of Grangeville, Idaho, the small mountain town in which we lived a couple of years, an elderly man, who happened to be the grandfather of two little girls who lived behind us. This old gentleman was an orator of the old school. He had huge, drooping moustaches which quivered when he got emotional, and his tall, lean, slightly bent body was an awesome sight when he stood up in the little mountain church and "testified."

He called upon the Lord to hear his testimony, and when his body began to quiver, and finally his moustaches set up a waving motion, he must have realized the Lord was listening, because it was only then that he would eloquently pour out his testimony.

I loved the whole thing. I would hug myself and shiver in excitement when I saw that the Lord was starting to touch him, and I watched with fascination the great mustaches, and I remembered his words.

"I was touched by God before I was born," he would boom, "for my mother heard me crying in her womb." This particularly fascinated me and I searched for days for a picture of the womb so that I could better see this fellow crying there. But there weren't many pictures of wombs lying around in those days, and I had to finally resort to my imagination, which probably was better, anyway.

This holy man asked my mother if he could take my sister and me along with several of his granddaughters to his mountain ranch for the weekend, and my mother gladly let us go, for she admired holy people.

And that is when I had to start really taking care of my little sister, for this holy man had devised all kinds of games in which little girls were watermelons to be sliced, or other types of vegetables to be gnawed on. After he had "sliced" a couple of the giggling little girls, I realized there was something pretty phony about it and I jumped up, dragging my little sister to her feet and telling the 'holy' man that there weren't any watermelons in our family. I remember that I was frightened and for the life of me I couldn't understand that fright. My little sister was indignant at me for being so mean to her. The 'holy' man was furious with me for spoiling the game, but I was adamant. Something in my nine year old psyche was telling me that something was wrong.

He took us home the next day, and on Sunday when he stood up in church and waited for the Lord to touch him, I shivered, because I really thought that God would probably strike him dead right there in front of us.

And as he began the shaking, and the moustache waving, he turned and pinned his fierce eyes on me and testified as to how sin is in the eyes of the beholder, and I thought maybe God would strike me dead, instead. But then I felt my little sister sit beside me and I looked at her as she instinctively felt the wrath being poured on us, and in my mind I could hear my mother say, "Take care of little sister, Joyce!"

My backbone stiffened and I started right back at the waving moustaches, and stuck out my tongue!

Ask Carol Premo

'Help! No one likes me!'

By CAROL PREMO, C.S.W.

Carol Premo, a Certified Social Worker in private practice in Belleville, Mich., will be presenting weekly answers to problems which may have been the source of either joy or pain for some of our readers.

You are invited to ask Carol about a problem or discuss a solution by mailing your letter to: Carol Premo, Associated Newspapers, 47818 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, Mich. 48111.

DEAR CAROL, I am this miserable. Please help me.

Help! Have you ever had the feeling that no one anywhere likes you. I really feel that way. All of a sudden no one calls me or asks me to do things.

I have called a few people, I thought were my friends, and they sort of put me off. I don't know what I am doing differently, but no one likes me anymore. I honestly want to move and just start all over again somewhere else.

I can't even remember how to make new friends, I am too young to

No Friends

DEAR NO,

Don't move away. It never helps to run from a problem. Rather stay and find a solution.

If you are not just going through a period of the doldrums and genuinely don't know the cause, ask. The usual reasons for losing friends would be pushiness, irritability, lack of sensitivity, etc. From your letter, however, I haven't a clue as to your area of difficulty.

You say you had some friends. Call them and ask if you can talk. Come right out and tell them your feelings. Ask them if they know the problem. They just might tell you and then you will know where to start.

If it bothers you enough to move, it should be worth it to you to seek out a solution. Good luck!

DEAR CAROL,

I really want to thank you for your answer to my letter about hating my ex-husband for taking (kidnapping) our son out of state.

I just got my son back. I am so happy. The friend of the court is going to help my ex-husband get help such as counseling before he gets visitation rights again.

My son is a bit nervous. Before going to bed he wanted to move the couch in front of the door so "nobody can get in."

I am very concerned about my ex-husband. I think he is very ill and needs help. I am also checking into some family therapy to help the kids and I cope with what is going on. I really want them to have some way to deal with their father's erratic behavior.

Well, thanks again for the advice and for listening.

Reunited Parent

DEAR REUNITED,

How delightful. How extremely happy I am for you and your children. I know that my readers will also be glad to read your letter. Many people told me that they were concerned and were praying for you. Shows you the power of prayer.

Champs lose 3 in a row

When you're the champ, everyone is looking for you. And you aren't supposed to go around falling over your own feet.

But Livonia Franklin, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference baseball kingpin, stumbled and tumbled from the top of the standings as Coach Gerry Cullin's Patriots dropped three straight last week.

In the league North Farmington avenged an earlier setback to the champs, 3-1 while Redford Thurston surprised them 6-1. Sandwiched between the two conference defeats was a 5-2 loss to Bishop Borgess.

"We have no one to blame but ourselves," said Coach Cullin whose team sported a 3-2 conference and a

7-6 overall record as the week got underway. "Against North we made three throwing errors and against the other two we committed six throwing and fielding errors.

"You can't win ballgames that way in this league, believe me," Cullin said.

Franklin was scheduled to play Redford Union Tuesday night. Although a key conference game, that game also has been tagged as the district qualifying game. Then, on Friday the Patriots travel to Westland John Glenn for a doubleheader. They need to win both ends to stay abreast with Redford Union and North.

Franklin outhit North 6-1 but couldn't do it with men on base. Losing pitcher Brad George gave up a fourth inning homer to Frank Baker, struck out seven, and walked two in his first setback of the league campaign.

Franklin grabbed a 1-0 second inning lead when Doug White walked, stole second and went to third on Dave Rettig's infield dribbler. The Pats then pulled off a double steal. But winning pitcher Rudd squelched the uprising by striking out Steve Droz and getting Bob Sinclair on a long flyout.

Greg Hanson scattered five Thurston hits while his mates booted three key plays that led to five of six unearned runs in Franklin's downfall at Thurston. The Pat pitcher walked three and struckout one.

White came up with three hits in four trips and batted in two of the Franklin three runs. Bob Nolan and Larry Rodder split four hits between them.

Nota cards no-hitter

If Belleville can snatch one of two games of a doubleheader scheduled Tuesday from Plymouth Salem, Coach Peggy Curtis's Tigers will hold on to the Suburban 8 Conference girls' softball title they captured a year ago.

"Our game with them the first time around was rained out," explained Coach Curtis, "so we have a doubleheader planned for Tuesday. Salem is also the only team we haven't been able to see in action this year."

Although Curtis is concerned about the Salem ball club, it should be the former who has the problems. Belleville knocked off four more rivals last week to remain undefeated in the league and stretched its winning streak to 14 (and 0) on the year.

One key game was the rematch with Livonia Bentley. Belleville's Betsy Nota squashed any Bentley uprising by firing a four-hitter, shutting out the Bulldogs 2-0. Nota gave up three walks but struck out four in the key confrontation.

Lozer Rose Nagy was tagged for six hits, and one walk.

Earlier, Belleville carved out a 6-3 victory over Allen Park as Nota again was unbeatable on the mound. She scattered four Parker hits, fanned eight and walked five.

Linda Spino's two hits, one a two-run double, sparked the Tigers.

Belleville was tough on out-of-league rivals last week as Sandy Washburn tossed a no-hitter in an 11-0 triumph over Romulus, a game called after five because of the mercy rule. Nancy Wisniewski accounted for two hits for the winners.

The Tigers came back on Saturday and swept both ends of a doubleheader from arch-rival, Ypsilanti, 7-0 and 13-3 for their 13th and 14th win of the season.

Nota cashed in six strikeouts and two walks for her first no-hitter of the campaign while the Houle sisters Sherri and Laura collected two and three hits respectively. Patty Kalasz also drilled three hits and Lisa Ray latched on to two hits, including a two-run triple.

Judy Brown earned a 7-0 victory over the Braves as she yielded four hits, walked three and fanned one. Wisniewski again chipped in with a pair of hits.

Canton sets men's golf tournament date

A two-day tournament designed for amateur men golfers will be staged at Fellow's Creek Golf Course on Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8.

The tournament, organized by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department, is open to area golfers. There is a $25 registration fee which covers green's fees for both days.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three places in each flight. There are also other prizes.

All entries must be mailed to the Canton Parks and Recreation Department, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Canton, Michigan, 48108. There is a Friday, June 5 deadline.

For further information please telephone the recreation department at 397-1000. Make checks payable to Canton Township.

Fellow's Creek Golf Course is located at Lotz Road, half-mile north of Michigan Ave.

Prep ball teams are shortchanged

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The Michigan high school baseball coaches should go to court and get an injunction or at least a waiver of some sorts to stop Mother Nature from messing up their season.

For the past three years weather has played a key role in high school spring athletics and, unfortunately, the coaches and their players can't do a thing about it. They are being shortchanged by the weather. Bad weather.

Last year, Spring missed these parts. In fact, there wasn't a summer worth talking about either; this year rains have wiped out most of the early part of the schedule and rescheduling has now become a problem, an impossibility in most cases.

The problem also is compounded by the fact the baseball season in this area is short-lived — no sooner than it begins, it appears that playoffs are here. There is no "built up", like there is in football, basketball, swimming and wrestling, etc., toward the state championships.

Would you also believe some coaches and their team have not been able to get on their diamonds for more than ONE WEEK of solid practice because of water drainage problems, poorly constructed and unkept diamonds? And the season for most of these teams is over next week!

I think the above outburst was precipitated by images of youngsters in Florida. When I visited the Tampa Bay area the first week of March, there were ball teams — high school teams — getting in shape under sun-lit skies.

If there were ways to import that climate to this area I feel we'd put the suspense back into high school baseball and spring athletics.

And now our good deeds for the day...

Promised Ron Pote, at Livonia Franklin High School, that I would put his "Putt-Putt for Scholarship" story in here somewhere. Here goes.

Seems students at that Livonia-based high school are organizing a miniature golf day for "fun and charity" Saturday, May 17 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

"The proceeds," Pote said, "will go toward our 'Dollar for Scholars' program."

What kind of program is that, Ron?

"The program provides scholarships, the needed funds for them, for deserving high school graduating seniors in our city," Pote replied.

The charity golf will be held at Yogi Miniature Golf, 39500 Five Mile Road (at the Oasis, between I-275 and Haggerty Rd.) There is a $2 adult golfing charge and students from the school district may take part for $1.50.

Dollars for Scholars, school officials stress, "has given many young people extra help that enabled them to continue their education."

So, if you don't have anything worthwhile to do Saturday, join the fun at Yogi's — and help some worthy student find his way through college.

If you should have any questions, Pote said he would gladly answer them. Contact him at 425-1900.

One more note. The Wayne Football Booster Club also are on a money-raising kick to help Wayne gridders purchase the needed equipment for the 1980 season.

Says Dorothy Whitworth, publicity chairperson for the boosters: "We would like to announce the winners of our Early Bird Drawing held at the Wayne Invitational Track Meet to know who they are."

Well, here goes. The recipients of the 50-50 drawings are: First place, Ann Baker; second place Elaine Saranas; and third place Marie Sogioian.

Mrs. Whitworth said the club will continue with its fund-raising efforts right into the football season. But it will limit sale to 500 with weekly drawings to begin at the first football game of the season (September 5) and for a period of 25 weeks thereafter.

There are still tickets available. Anyone interested in helping should contact Mr. Korte, Booster Club official, at 728-1082.

And why the P.R. for the Wayne club?

Whitworth does sound like a name of one of the men in blue who took me for a ride to the community center recently.

Belleville, Romulus tangle in 'district'

There's an added incentive to win the first game of a doubleheader on Saturday between Belleville and Romulus — the winner of the opener will qualify for the pre-district Class A district tournament.

"We have a doubleheader scheduled with them (Romulus) on Saturday and decided to designate the first game as the district qualifier," said Belleville Coach Tom Fielder. "Aside from bettering our win-loss record and the playoff competition, there's not very much left after what happened to us last week."

Belleville lost four straight, including both ends of a doubleheader Saturday to Ann Arbor Huron. Huron shut out the Tigers 5-0 in the first game and swept the second 6-2. Those two wins came on the wake of a 16-1 Livonia Bentley shellacking.

"We're in a slump," said Fielder, "and we're going to have to hang in there and get some runs on the board. That's all there is to it."

Belleville started the week on the wrong side of a 3-1 decision with Allen Park who avenged its Suburban 8 Conference loss thanks to the three-hit pitching of Brian Petterele. Petterele was working on a no-hitter up to the seventh when he gave up three singles — to Mike Stoelton and Scott Forester, who had the lone RBI, and to Dave Stamper.

Stamper lasted four innings against Bentley, the undefeated conference pacesetter which humbled the Tigers. The loss left Belleville with a 4-3 conference mark.

Jeff Morhenweiser fired a four-hitter, giving up a double to Dave LeBlanc, and singles to Brian Good, Mike Vance and Stamper as Huron jolted the Tigers in the first game. Lozer Larry Petrowski walked three and fanned six as the lefthanded sophomore yielded seven hits.

Bill White, a senior, went the distance in the nightcap, and pitched an eight-hitter. He managed to get three on strikes and walked five in digesting the 6-2 loss.

Winning hurler Tom Nowland had his problems with control but survived. In the sixth, four consecutive walks and a single by Jim Kause produced the two Belleville runs.

Churchill will host area teams

With the dual meet season behind them area high school track & field teams are nearing the finish line of the 1980 season.

But two great tests await the preps — regionals and state finals.

The regionals will be staged Saturday across the state with Livonia Churchill playing host to most of the area teams including all five Livonia schools, Plymouth Salem and Canton.

In the meantime, Wayne Memorial, undefeated this year, and Westland John Glenn will travel to Dearborn where a score of Detroit teams including Detroit Central await the local thincalcs.

Central is considered the favorite to win the Class A state title.

"I feel we will fare well over there," said Wayne Coach Ernie Righetti. "I also feel that we would probably be a serious contender in just about any other regional in this area."

Belleville takes a fine aggregation to Wyandotte Roosevelt on Saturday in quest of a regional championship. Coach Dave Medley is confident that his team will come out with more than their share of medals.

In order to qualify for the state finals, an athlete must finish in the top three of each of the individual events or produce a state qualifying time. Relay teams which finish first second or third also will advance to state.

Belleville tuned up for the regional by placing fourth behind Ann Arbor Pioneer, Stevenson and Cherry Hill at the 16-team Livonia Stevenson Invitational over the weekend. Coach Medley's Tigers also defeated Suburban 7 Conference rival, Dearborn Edsel Ford, 70-62 last week.

The victory over Edsel was a first for Medley and the Tigers who have compiled a 5-0 conference record.

"This is the first time we have ever beaten Edsel," Medley noted. "And we did it with a couple of key men on the sidelines. We have a good dual meet team and I feel that the league title will be a toss-up between ourselves and Salem and Edsel."

Belleville managed to keep its winning streak intact thanks to its mile relay team which needed to post a victory in order to stop the Dearbornites. Ahead 65-62 going into that final event, Medley's foursome of Jerard Saffold, Larence Grimmett, Lonnie Renfro and Jeff Patterson held off Edsel Ford. The winners posted a 3:34.0.

At Stevenson, Belleville returned with the gold for its performance in the shuttle hurdle relay as Ron Jernigan, Ed Mays, Tim Knowlton and Scott Straight turned in the winning time of 61.3.

The Tigers finished second to Pioneer in the 440-relay with Barry Reddick, Derrick May, Sampson and Keith Gates. Pioneer was clocked in 44.7, two-tenths of a second better than Belleville's second place time.

Track phenom: Cherry Hill chalks up 54th straight win

Spartans to try for 'B' regional title at Clarenceville

This year's track phenom remains Cherry Hill.

The Spartans coasted past Garden City East 80½-51½ and topped a talented Taylor Kennedy aggregation 73-59 to pick up their 53rd and 54th consecutive dual meet victories and remain undefeated in the Tri-River Conference.

Only Garden City West, which Cherry Hill was to meet Monday night, stands in the Spartans and Coach Dick Gordon's way from another perfect dual meet year. It would be their eighth successive year without a loss in the league.

We never underestimate a Garden City West team," said Gordon before the encounter, "because of West's coach (Bill Pinnell). He is probably one of the finest track coaches in the state."

Cherry Hill also has Saturday's Class B regional meet on its mind. The regional will be staged at Clarenceville. The Spartans are considered one of five teams that could win it all. (In order to qualify for the state finals, scheduled for Sturgis on May 31, a meet state qualifying standards).

"There have been some teams added to the Clarenceville regional which were not on the original list," Coach Gordon noted, "so I really don't know what to expect. However, I feel we have some people on this team who will definitely be competing at state."

Three such athletes are Mike Michno, a distance runner; Tim Kalis, a pole vaulter, and Kevin Smith. Smith last week captured a gold medal in the long jump (20 feet, 8½") at the Livonia Stevenson Relays.

Cherry Hill fared well at Stevenson. Along with Smith, Kalis also picked up a gold medal as he successfully negotiated 13 feet, 0 inches. He has come close to clearing 14 feet this season.

With Michno turning in a 4:23.6 for his split in the distance medley relay, the Spartans were second in the event. Gordon's team also consisted of John Martin, Billy Ellis and Ramon Lara.

"I felt that everyone was surprised at the way our team performed over there," Gordon said. "Cherry Hill was second team-wise until the point tabulation for the final event, the mile relay."

With Michno winning the events — the mile, 880-yard run and figuring in the mile relay victory, and Tom Teasdale and Kevin Smith each winning two, the Spartans swept 12 of 16 events in whipping East.

It was a different story against Kennedy, however, on Thursday. "Kennedy had one previous loss and that was to Garden City West, but they went into that one without three key athletes," Gordon noted. "Kennedy definitely is a threat to our league title as it Schafer."

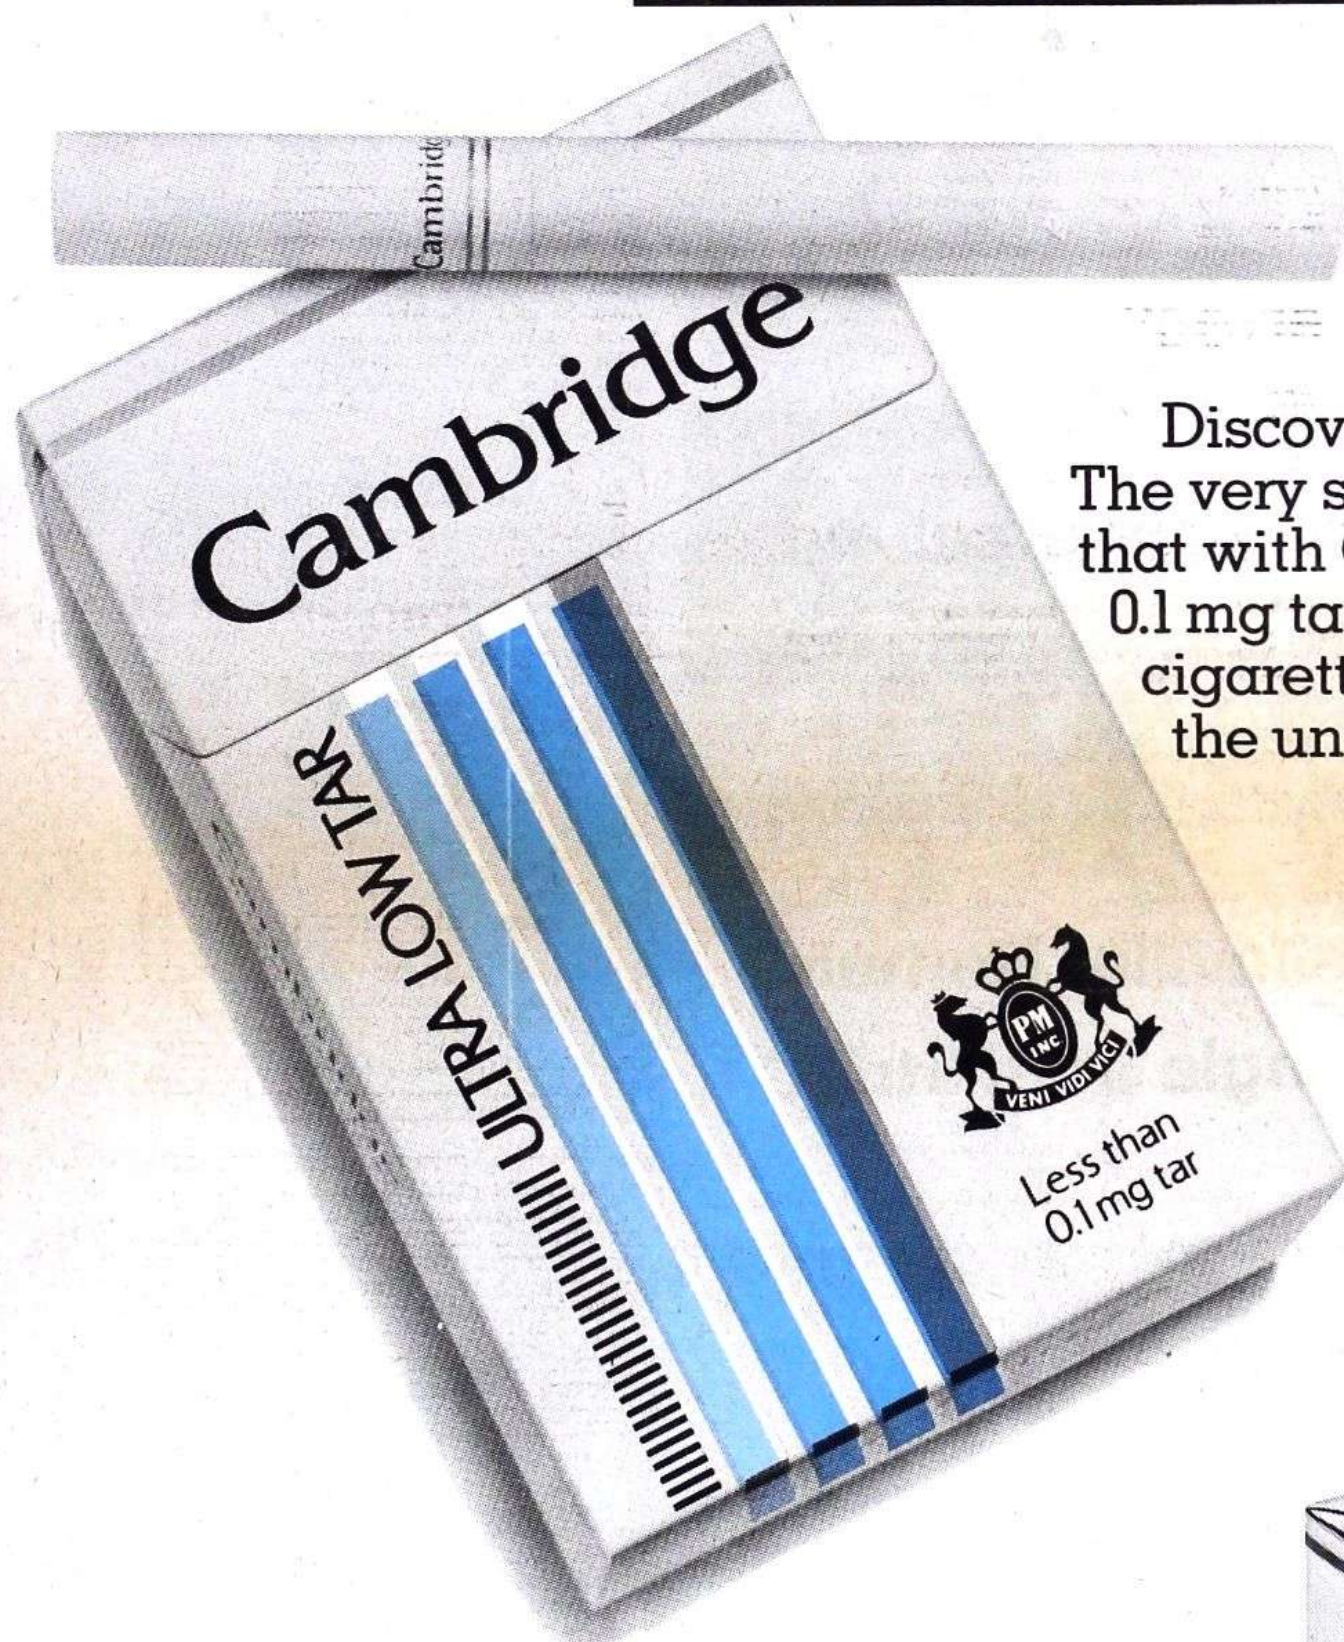

Teasdale's double victory including a record 137 feet, 11 inch toss in the discus helped the Spartans repel the Kennedy Eagles.

'The skids'

Spartans are out of it; drop 6 of last 7 games

When and if he ever looks back to the 1980 high school baseball season, Cherry Hill Coach Ken Mientkiewicz can single out three games that led to the Spartans' demise.

The three — all demoralizing, lopsided losses, 15-6 to Southgate; 12-0 to Dearborn Heights Riverside; and 17-1 to Dearborn Heights Crestwood) wiped out Cherry Hill's chances in the Tri-River Conference.

"I just can't understand it," Coach Mientkiewicz said. "The three days were the worst we've ever played. We were the worst team in the world. There is and are no explanations."

Ironically, the week before the sudden Cherry Hill collapse, the Spartans played respectable ball. They dropped a 3-2 ball game to area rival, Romulus, bounced back to beat Southgate 7-5 in nine innings for what was their third win in nine conference starts.

What is left for Mientkiewicz and his club is that at the Class B district playoffs. The Spartans were scheduled to meet Clarenceville

Tuesday night to determine which team would take on Dearborn Heights Robichaud Friday, May 23. The winner of the May 23rd game will advance to the district tournament which will be hosted by Dearborn St. Alphonsus.

On Saturday, Cherry Hill dropped an 8-5 decision to Dundee and bowed to Ida 4-1. Sophomore Tom Michno, who struck out six and walked three in pitching a 10-hitter, also was the victim of poor defense. His teammates committed crucial errors in

Title in Zebras' future?

Wayne crushes Monroe

This is the week for Wayne Memorial's track machine to prove it is the best in the Great Lakes 8 Conference.

With Fordson and Wyandotte on their mind, Wayne must come through the week untainted in order to play the role of favorite at the conference championships.

Wayne rattled Monroe 78-54 for its fifth straight win in the league. The Zebras were scheduled to meet Fordson under the lights Tuesday at home.

"If we can keep our streak intact, we'll be in the driving seat for the conference championships," said Coach Ernie Righetti.

Meet results: Wayne Memorial 78, Monroe 54

Long shows NBA he can rebound

Detroit Pistons second-year guard John Long arrived as an NBA shooting guard in 1979-80, but he also earned another unique distinction.

The 6-5 University of Detroit product, a Romulus native, led all NBA guards in offensive rebounding during the season just completed and also finished in the top six in total rebounding average.

Long, a small forward in college, ranked in a tie for 9th among all NBA guards in field goal percentage at .505 with Otis Birdsong, the third year Kings guard and two-time All-Star.

Long was one of 11 NBA guards to shoot 500 or better from the field and such recent All-Star game performers as Dennis Johnson (.422), Lloyd Free (.474), Eddie Johnson (.487), Michael Ray Richardson (.472), Tiny Archibald (.482), Calvin Murphy (.493), David Thompson (.468) and Randy Smith (.452) rated far behind.

In his second year of NBA play, Long, the NBA's second-leading rookie scorer in 1978-79, showed better shot selection while averaging fewer than 17 field goal attempts per game. He improved his scoring average from 16.1 to 19.4 and his field goal percentage from .469.

With 2.20 offensive rebounds per game, Long edged rookie Magic Johnson (2.16), while Magic at 7.74 total rebounds per game led all NBA guards in total rebounding. The only other NBA guards to average more than 2.00 offensive grabs each game were Dennis Johnson of Seattle at 2.14, Otis Birdsong of K.C. at 2.01 and Sidney Moncriet of Milwaukee at 2.00.

Magic Johnson was followed by Richardson (.657), Ray Williams (.524), George Gervin (.517), Dennis Johnson (.511) and Long (.488) among the NBA's best rebounding backcourtmen. Interestingly, Gervin, Richardson and Long were all collegiate forwards.

Best shooter among the guards? The Sixers' Maurice Cheeks (.540), a second-round 1978 draft choice like Long. Billy Knight (.533) rates second followed by Magic (.530), Gervin (.528), Paul Westphal (.525) and LA's Michael Cooper (.524) among guards with more than 300 field goals made, the standard to be rated among the NBA's top shooters.

Romulus 'hottest' ball club around

The "hottest" baseball team in the area?

Pick the Romulus Eagles and you can't go wrong. After an ill-fated start caused by a prolonged teachers' strike in the district, Romulus came back from two losses and has won six in a row.

"We're playing the kind of ball I know this team is capable of playing," said Coach Dennis Stoh after his Eagles swept both ends of a doubleheader from New Boston Huron 7-4 and 5-4. "I'm just hoping we can take this momentum right into the playoffs."

Romulus' qualifying round for the Class A district is scheduled for noon Saturday against Belleville. Although the two area-rivals are scheduled to play a doubleheader, the first will count as the state playoff game.

Belleville is trying to snap a six-game losing streak, while Romulus will bring a 6-2 over-all record to Belleville. The Eagles have won their last six outings. That doesn't mean Coach Stoh isn't worried.

"We always have a good game over there," he said. "There's this natural rivalry between the two teams because we are so closely tied geographically."

Spartans hit skids

Cherry Hill appeared to have snapped out of its slump in the fifth inning when it rallied for five runs as Michno led off with a walk off of winning pitcher Tom Hess. Mike Johnson was safe on an error and the Hess issued a walk to Bob Donovan that loaded the bases. Dave O'Koney was safe on a fielder's choice which erased Donovan at second but scored Michno. Then, Hess got Jeff Searcy on strikes.

But Bill James kept the rally alive with a run-scoring single. Hess then tossed a fast ball to Bill Walters who blasted it for a three-run homer.

Although Cherry Hill outthit Ida 6-1 they found themselves on the shortend of the 4-1 count. O'Leary was charged with the loss as he gave up five hits, walked one and framed two.

James's seventh inning homer robbed winning pitcher Mike Knabusch of a shutout.

On Friday, Donovan couldn't stop an improving Schafer club which snatched a 7-3 victory from the Spartans, but Cherry Hill managed to come up with two runs in the ninth to eke out a 7-5 victory over Southgate as Mark Cabanaw was credited with the win. He whiffed five, walked two and gave up six hits.

Cabanaw helped his cause with two hits and three runs batted in while Walters chipped in with and Mike Johnson also collected three and O'Koney rapped two.

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Atop one of my Mother's Day gifts Sunday was an article entitled "Mom's the One with Rose-Colored Glasses", a thought-provoking bit by Mike Duffy clipped from the big city daily.

It began with a quote, "Americans devote one day of the year to mothers and an entire week to pickles" -- an anonymous sentence from Liz Smith's "The Mother Book".

Then Duffy continues... "And when's the last time a gherkin made some chicken soup, gave you a hug and tucked you in at night?" It DOES make one wonder a bit about our values in this merchandising-conscious nation. But on the other hand, what a 3-ring circus promoters could make of an entire week dedicated to the moms of America.

I, for one, certainly don't feel cheated, though, and that's because I was thrice-blessed to begin with (those bonuses being labeled Lu, Sue and Carol.) Not only that -- but Mother's Day for yours truly was stretched to fill an entire weekend! And if that comes across as being smug, I apologize; I'm hoping it will read "lucky -- mighty darn lucky!" And though I've made a real effort NOT to mention the brightest little light in our group, I'm sure you'll remember that nearly a year ago BG got that long-awaited little boy -- our grandson.

All grandparents reading this can add "hear, hear!" when I say that it's really quite the nicest niche to be in during these middle years. My only complaint is being a parttime grandmother. That status was really magnified this weekend when we witnessed far too much progress since our last bit with Matthew.

Two months ago we were delighting in his prowess with his circular little walker (scooter, whatever you call it) ... at the same time wondering why he couldn't synchronize his arms and legs for that expected next "stage" -- the crawl.

Seems we'd no sooner left the Windy City area than he was doing his thing with speed and agility. We not only missed out on that accomplishment but soon heard from Lu that he was pulling himself up and walking round the furniture.

That's the infant-act we expected to witness their first morning here. But, lo and behold, that little dickens had already mastered the 1-handed-assistance toddle and before he waved so-long to us Sunday had ventured on his own from the family room to the living room -- a long trek for a wee fella.

And we just know that back in Evanston he'll be giving his mom and dad all kinds of heart palpitations as he decides suddenly to see what "soloing" is like in his own little abode.

So help me, grandbaby, if you're talking the next time we get to cuddle you, I'm just liable to sit right down and cry.

When you're in the food market and ready to reach for a carton of eggs, do you ever give any thought as to what the grading on those containers means? All those double and single "A's", for instance?

Here's the explanation to grading: AA Fancy means no more than 10-12 days old; AA means 12-18 days old; and A (heaven help us!) means maybe three weeks old!

I've been fortunate the past several months in that our eggs are not only hand-delivered to the office but those hens that produce 'em are given lots of TLC by a couple of cute and caring twins out on Harris Road. Our eggs are not only super fresh but happy to boot!

Here's a post script to that plea we turned in last week on behalf of a rather dismal, pathetic-looking Victory Park. The party that called (who's hoping to stir up a little action in her neighborhood) said I SHOULD have added: Let's get that park in shape for the Strawberry Festival. With all the expected visitors to our city, we really should put our best foot forward and provide a pleasant resting area for the many families that will be looking Belleville over very carefully.

The Strawberry Festival, in case you've not heard, is only a few weeks away. Action is slated for June 20, 21 and 22 and if you'd like a flyer with all the scheduled activities, stop in to see Leona at the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

LOOKING BACK AT THIS DAY, MAY 14, AND WHAT HAPPENED...

IN 1804 -- The expedition of Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, organized under President Thomas Jefferson, started from St. Louis to explore the Louisiana Territory.

IN 1812 -- The annexation by Congressional act added the West Florida territory to the territory of Mississippi and to the nation. James Madison was president.

IN 1904 -- The first Olympic games were held in America and were opened as part of the St. Louis Exposition in St. Louis, Mo. The U. S. won 21 events in this, the third Olympiad of the modern era.

IN 1913 -- Henry Ford set up his first assembly line for the production of a relatively low-priced Model T with a revolutionary high wage of $5 a day for his workers. Between 1909-1924, the price of the Model-T dipped from $950 to $290. Ford engineers had adopted the meat packers conveyor belt system and soon 1,000 Fords were being turned out per day.

IN 1942 -- Congress established the WAAC's (Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps.)

TIDBITS FOR A LULL IN THE CONVERSATION -- gleaned from TV's "Hollywood Squares".

Of all Thomas A. Edison's inventions, the only one that worked on the first try was the phonograph.

Despite our tight economy and the many cutbacks being made in NECESSARY areas, our government found it justifiable to blow $27,000 trying to find out why prisoners want to escape.

The nation's most dangerous drivers, experts have found, are young adults in their early 20's.

According to "Psychology Today", a person hears FOUR secrets in one week. (Anyone want to bring me even half-way up to the national standard?)

Yes, crying IS good for you! Tears tend to clear the nasal passages and help fight infections.

Even the teen-age set knows the answer to the No. 1 priority we have to deal with in the 80's. In a poll taken of their peers, the overwhelming answer was "inflation".

Rhubarb (having made its seasonal debut) comes into play for a second week since a newly-made Tecumseh friend provided me with a nice bunchful and another supplied a recipe for its use.

While most of us have experimented with rhubarb or strawberry-rhubarb pies at one time or another, I have a feeling there are few of us who've ever tried (let alone HEARD of) "Rhubarb-Orange Cream Pie". It sounds temptingly delicious and different enough to want to tackle.

RHUBARB-ORANGE CREAM PIE

Pastry for 9" pie shell
3 eggs, separated
1 1/4 c. sugar
1 c. soft butter or oleo
3 Tblsp. frozen orange juice concentrate
1 c. flour
1 tsp. salt
2 1/2 c. rhubarb, cut in 1/2" pieces
one-third c. chopped pecans

Line 9" pie pan with pastry; make high fluted rim.

Beat egg whites until stiff; add 1/4 c. sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Add butter and juice to egg yolks; beat thoroughly. Add remaining 1 c. sugar, flour and salt; beat well. Add rhubarb to yolk mixture; stir well. Gently fold in meringue. Pour into pastry-lined pan; sprinkle with nuts. Bake on bottom rack in 375 degree oven for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees; bake 45 to 50 minutes more.

My friend (you can give Millie credit for this) says the pie puffs up while baking so don't be surprised when it balloons.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Genealogy is the study of tracing yourself back to people better than you are.

Bonnie Pavlat takes gavel for BPW 1980-81 club year

The regular meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) was held at Faith United Methodist Church in Denton with Mildred Artley conducting her final business meeting as 1979-80 president. She and other out-going leaders including Bonnie Pavlat, Faye Sotomayor, Evelyn Pullen, Gwen Ashe and Irene Whalen, were in charge of arrangements.

Past-president Vira McGrane was installing officer and initiated a new form of ceremony for the annual rite. With assistance from five other former presidents, Ruth Davis, Eva Luper, Irene Whalen, Helen White and Marie Roberts, she presented the executive board for 1980-81: Bonnie Pavlat, president; Faye Sotomayor, president-elect; Georgia Badgett, vice-president; Evelyn Pullen, recording secretary; Irene Christie, treasurer, and Virginia Bruder, corresponding secretary. Ann O'Beay, the club's Young Career State Candidate, was guest soloist with several young students performing pantomime acts for the 35 members and guests.

During the business meeting, reports were given by the nine delegates and members who attended the 62nd State Convention at Long's Convention Center in Lansing May 2 to 4.

They announced the following as 1980-81 Michigan State Business and Professional Women's officers: Marlene Danol, president; Ila Smith, president-elect; Jean Kalbfleish, first vice-president; Fran Barnes, second vice-president; Maybelle Shon, recording secretary, and Evelyn Stevens, treasurer.

Polly Madenwald of Hillsboro, Ore., third vice-president of the National Federation of BPW Clubs, was featured as national representative. She gave state BPW members a look at the newly-formed national Political Action Committee. She also talked about the results of a BPW commissioned Louis Harris poll on public attitude toward the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Bonnie Pavlat will be the Belleville Club's delegate to the National Convention in Omaha in July and Faye Sotomayor will be the alternate.

On May 16 the Belleville Club will again pay a visit to the Evergreen Hills Nursing Home.

June means the Strawberry Festival in this community and the committee is busy putting final touches on its projects.

The next regular meeting and dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. June 2 at the same location in Denton. The finance committee will be in charge. Reservations may be made by calling Maxine Miller, chairman, at 461-1122, or by contacting Helen White, Ruth Davis, Eva Luper or Margaret Saunders.

June, July weddings set

MISS BOZEMAN

MISS COOK

MISS STUDER

Beverly Bozeman-Wayne Jackson

The Rev. and Mrs. Royal T. Bozeman of Hillcrest Drive, Wayne, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Yvonne, to Wayne Timothy Jackson of Inkster.

The bride-elect, whose father is pastor of Faith Apostolic Temple in Inkster, is a graduate of John Glenn High School now working in the nursing department of Garden City Hospital. She plans to attend Eastern Michigan University in the fall to pursue a medical degree with specialization in pediatrics.

The prospective bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Willa Mae Jackson Lewis of Lexington, Ky. and the late Rev. Horace Jackson Sr., holds a supervisory position at the Renaissance Center Club in Detroit as well as being an associate minister at the Faith Temple Church.

A June wedding is being planned.

Regina Cook-Michael Long

The First Assembly of God in Lakeland, Fla. has been reserved for the June 13 wedding of Regina Cook and Michael Douglas Long whose engagement and future plans are announced by Mrs. Myrtle Cook of 608 Swiss Dr., Lakeland, Fla., mother of the bride-elect.

Miss Cook, who attended Belleville High School until her family moved to Florida when she was a sophomore, graduated from Evangel Christian School and now attends Hillsborough Community College. She is employed by Burger King in Lakeland.

Her fiancé, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. U.V. Grace of Plant City, Fla., is an alumnus of Plant City High School. An employee of Public Warehouse, he currently attends Hillsborough Community College.

Kimberly Studer-Bart Burger

The engagement of Kimberly Ann Studer to Bart Allen Burger is announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Gertrude L. Studer of 12783 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville.

The young couple plan to be married the afternoon of July 12 at Van Buren Park.

A graduate of Belleville High School in 1978, Miss Studer is currently working as a shoe fitter at Stride Rite Bootery in Briarwood.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Burger of 6611 Sheldon Rd., Belleville, the prospective bridegroom graduated from Belleville High School in 1978 and now works as a salesman in the book department at the J.L. Hudson store in Briarwood.

Take a historic promenade, visit Tecumseh May 17-18

Tecumseh's fifth annual "Promenade the Past," this year a tour of 11 historic structures, is scheduled for May 17 and 18 from 1-6 p.m. An abundance of beautiful 19th Century homes provide a charming setting for the 1980 "Promenade" activities.

Several of the tour structures are located on Chicago Boulevard, M-50. This boulevard represents a large portion of Tecumseh's historic district which was placed on the Michigan State Register of Historic Sites in January 1976.

The first "Promenade", held in 1976, was a restoration of the Weller-Seager house by volunteers and top designers. This historic structure was the one-time home of Michigan author, Allan Seager. Since that time, the "Promenade" has continued to grow yearly and now includes many homes and special events.

The promenades are held to demonstrate practical ideas for conservation of historic buildings, the vital life in the historic district, the pride of heritage felt by Tecumseh's citizens, and the economic, cultural and aesthetic benefits of restoring historic buildings for original or adaptive uses.

The 1980 tour includes buildings which reflect various eras in Tecumseh's history. Each architectural style represents the cultural, economic, social and religious ideas of that period.

Along the tour route, visitors to Tecumseh will find many of the following special events which are reminiscent of the town's history:

— Antique and Old Craft Market. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. 10 a.m.-6 p.m. (Saturday and Sunday) — International Dinner. Sponsored by Tecumseh High School Band Boosters. Wide variety of international foods. Musical entertainment. Advance tickets — $4. At the door, $4.50 Noon — 6 p.m. (Sunday only) — Western Lake Erie Regional Model A Restorers Club.

— Spinning wheel demonstration.

— Weaving demonstration.

— "Promenade" Barbershop Quartet.

— Chamber Music Trio.

The tour includes:

— First United Presbyterian Church, Gothic Revival ca. 1865. Refreshments served to visitors.

— Tecumseh's First Catholic Church, a cobblestone structure built in 1913. Renovated as Richard Mark's Stained Glass Studio-Gallery. Stained glass demonstration.

— Bidwell Building, Bracketed Italianate, ca. 1852. Restored in 1978 and now used as a mini-mall.

— Weller-Seager House, Second Empire-French Mansard style home

ca. 1870. First "Promenade the Past" selection in 1976.

— Dr. I.S. Hamilton House, Modified Greek Revival home with eclectic Victorian details, ca. 1840.

— Knapp House, Queen Anne style home, ca. 1895-6.

— Rice House, Queen Anne style home, ca. 1890.

— Brown House, Modified Federal style home with pilastered portico, ca. 1890.

— Edwin R. Smith Estate, Eastlake style home, ca. 1890. Presently being renovated by owners and will be completed by May. Will be furnished courtesy of area merchants and designers.

— Barritt House, Federal style ca. 1853.

— Haight House, Queen Anne style home with wide veranda, ca. 1900

A donation of $4 will be accepted for advance tickets, $5 on tour.

Senior citizens 60 and older and students will be admitted for $4 with I.D. Tickets are available from the Tecumseh Area Historical Society, P.O. Box 26, Tecumseh, MI. 49286.

Original etchings of the structures on tour will be given to visitors with admission.

"Promenade the Past 1980" is co-sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Historical Society and the Presbyterian Women's Association with the cooperation of the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bride-elect is honored at shower

Carla Anne Butcher of Reed City and Anthony Carl Suessine III of Romulus, are engaged and planning to be married May 18 in the bride-elect's home city.

A freshman at Central Michigan University, Miss Butcher was the honored guest April 26 at a miscellaneous shower given by her fiancé's aunts, Mrs. Linda Hoffman of Romulus; Mrs. Kim Seay of Taylor; Mrs. Thelma Shivel of Farmington; Mrs. Neva Shivel of Brownstown; Shein Shivel of Taylor and Mrs. Dorothy Shivel of Taylor, grandmother of the prospective bridegroom.

Held in Romulus at the Niagara Street home of Mrs. Nolene Suessine, the party was attended by some 35 close friends, neighbors and relatives. A tangerine and yellow color scheme was used in decorating and for the 3-carnation corsage which Miss Butcher wore for the occasion.

A 1978 graduate of Romulus High School, the future bridegroom is currently in his sophomore year at CMU.

D. Baldwins have a son, their second

Mid-spring brought a new addition to the home of David (Skip) and Kathy Baldwin of 41781 Riggs Rd., Belleville -- a new son who arrived at 11:05 a.m. April 24 at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

The newcomer, who was labeled "David Paul", is the little brother of Rickie Baldwin, who's 3-years-old, and the grandson of Gladys Baldwin and Ruth Bleeker, both of Belleville.

The 8 lb.-15 oz. infant, who measured 21 1/2 inches, has also been added to the family trees of his great-grandparents, Ben and da Scott of Romulus and Nettie White of Many, La.

It's a date

BHS talent 'on stage' next three nights

5:30 to 7 p.m. each Monday at Faith United Methodist Church at 6020 Denton Road.

BELLEVILLE — If you are separated, divorced or widowed, you are invited to attend the Bethany Belleville Meetings held on the third Saturday of each month (unless otherwise stated.) The next session will be at 8 p.m. May 17 in the cafeteria of St. Anthony's School. Bethany is an affiliate of the Family Life Bureau of the Archdiocese of Detroit. You need not be a Catholic to attend and new ideas or suggestions are always welcome. For further information, call Oliver Avery at 699-4058 or Marcella Matthews at 699-3419.

ANN ARBOR — Singles 25 and up are invited to be the guest of the Tuesday Night Singles which meet each week from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on South Main Street. On May 20 the group will dance to the music of the Frank Venice Band and enjoy a special luau dinner dance with professional Hawaiian entertainment. This will be preceded by a potluck dinner at 7:30 with meat provided.

Jaycette executive board

To celebrate the formation of the new Belleville-Van Buren Jaycette chapter, a charter night will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 17 at Rogalle's Lounge. Newly-elected officers to be installed include the president, Karen Courtney (seated); Catalina Hall, vice-president (from left); Valerie Higgins, secretary, and Sue Jones, treasurer. The evening program will be headed by a speaker from the Michigan Auxiliary with a roast beef dinner to precede the talk and installation. The new chapter, which assists the local Jaycees, welcomes new members at any time. Please call 697-2990 for further information or to inquire about the banquet.

Senior citizens designate May membership month

This Month — May — has been designated as "open month" for membership by the Belleville Area Senior Citizens Club. Anyone 55 or older in any of the surrounding communities is eligible to join the club this month.

Meetings are held each Thursday evening at 6:30 at Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville. After the school year, picnics are held at Van Buren Park every two weeks during July and August.

The Belleville club was organized by Richard Coffelt about 15 years ago. It offers friendship and fellowship, birthday and anniversary parties, free bingo parties once a month, special speakers and occasional musical entertainment. A monthly potluck supper for members and their friends is also a highlight on the calendar.

Further information on the group may be obtained by calling Betty Hunter at 461-1406.

A necessary nutrient

Information on iron

Of the 17 nutrients for which the Food and Nutrition Board, National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council has established Recommended Daily Dietary Allowances (RDA's), six are minerals. Three of these minerals are needed in such small amounts that they are referred to as "trace minerals." They are iron, zinc and iodine. Although all three trace minerals are needed for good health, perhaps iron receives the most publicity because it is known to be frequently low in the diet of some groups in the population.

The normal adult body contains 3 to 5 grams (that's 3000 to 5000 milligrams) of iron. This is very little, considering that one ounce equals 28.35 grams. About 75 percent of the body's iron is a part of hemoglobin — the oxygen-carrying component of blood.

The need for iron is increased by three conditions — growth, menstruation and other blood loss.

Therefore, iron requirements are highest for infants, 6 months to 3 years of age, for teenage boys, 11 to 18 years of age, as well as for women of childbearing age and pregnant and lactating women. If there is blood loss due to surgery or because of blood donation, there could be a temporary need for extra iron, either in the form of dietary iron or as an iron supplement.

The highest Recommended Daily

Allowance (RDA) of iron is 18 milligrams for women of child-bearing age and for teenage boys, with one exception. The one exception is the even greater need for iron during pregnancy and lactation. It is recommended that pregnant women take an iron supplement, 30 to 60 milligrams per day, and that this supplement be continued for two to three months after the birth of the baby.

Early deadline...

Due to the Memorial Day holiday falling on a regular workday, it will be necessary to change the deadline for the Suburban Living pages next week. Rather than the usual 2 p.m. Thursday cut-off, it will be necessary for all items to be submitted one day earlier — on Wednesday, May 21, at 2 p.m. This will insure meeting earlier deadlines set by the composing and pressrooms.

Andrea honored at first communion party

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-1021

Andrea Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Schultz of Hoelt Road, made her first holy communion at St. Anthony's Church May 3. On Sunday she was honored with a special dinner at her parent's home. Present were her god-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Schultz of Wayne; her grandmother, Mrs. Frances Korgal, of Spencer Street, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loria of Edgemont Street, Sophie Rose of Lenmoore Street, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Korgal and family of Hull Road, Ed Forester of Manchester, and a neighbor, Mrs. Bob Evanski, who had made a special cake in the form of a Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buck of East Huron River Drive spent several days last week in Toronto, Ont., with their son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. James Buck and family, Nicole and Jamie. Dr. Buck has one more year of internship at Toronto's Children's Hospital.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. S.C. Pierman of East Huron Drive were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Preuinger of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Jon McClory of South Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Whitman of Kalamazoo were weekend guests of long-time friends, Dr. and Mrs. J.H. Tator of High Street.

Good news from Herbert Fielder who has been seriously ill at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor, following surgery some time ago. He is much improved and was taken out of intensive care Sunday, May 4. He is now in room 2160.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Crowley Street spent Sunday in Flint with their son, Larry Orr, wife and family.

Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S. officers, Kay Parker of the South Service Drive and June Hawkins of Lauren Court, motored to Mason on Saturday, May 3, where they attended a meeting of Ingham County Association of O.E.S.

Mrs. Fred (Ina) Lunde of Fifth Street underwent major surgery at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti on Monday, May 5. At present writing she is doing well and may soon be home.

Mrs. Aileen Mengel of Ann Arbor spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Norman Miller Sr. of Second Street.

Brian Palmer, a student at Michigan State University at East Lansing, was home for the weekend with his parents, the Kenneth Palmers of Clarence Street.

Don McKee of the South Service Drive underwent spinal surgery at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor on Tuesday, May 6.

Mrs. J.H. Tator of High Street was among the many who attended the 55th class reunion breakfast of Ann Arbor High School held at the Michigan League on Saturday, May 3. On the same day Dr. Tator was inducted into the Emeritus Club of the University of Michigan, ceremonies taking place at the Rackham Building.

Mrs. Don McKee with daughter, Donna, and son, David, and the children's grandmother, Mrs. Joe Parker of the South Service Drive, were in Charlotte recently where David took part in the bowling division singles. He bowled 666 for a total of three games and will be taking part in the State Singles next month.

Mrs. B.P. Hopson of Belleville Road spent last weekend at her son, Thornton's summer home at Torch Lake.

Mrs. Donovan (Lillian) Partridge of Pueblo, Colo. has been spending some time with relatives and friends in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Edmonds of Hastings were Thursday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Albin Sabin and family from

Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road were among the many who attended the 29th Bi-annual KFOC Int'l. Seaway Regional meet May 3-4 in Van Wert, Ohio. Held at Vantage

Vocational School, an open house was held Saturday evening and a buffet dinner and meeting Sunday with trophies being presented in 13 classes. Among those present was an international member from Paris, France. Others were present from Michigan, Ohio, Canada, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The 1980 annual convention will be held in Arden Hills, Minn.

Mayor Oakley to visit Charlotte

A tour of a new $5 million waste water treatment plant will be one of the highlights of Mayor William Oakley's day in Charlotte on May 19.

Oakley will also tour a small truck plant during the Mayor's Exchange Day, one of many events planned for Michigan Week.

The Romulus mayor will be visiting a community much smaller than his hometown but one which has been in existence as a city for a longer period of time.

Charlotte was first chartered as a village in 1863 and in 1871 a City Charter was adopted.

At an election held in the spring of 1962 the electorate of the City of Charlotte adopted a new City Charter which was effective July 1, 1962.

This City Charter adopted in the City of Charlotte a council-manager type of municipal government. This type of government differentiates from the type previously in effect in that councilmen no longer served on committees and the single administrative responsibility was vested in a city manager.

This City Charter mandated that a new city code of ordinances be adopted, which has been completed, and that a city planning commission be established with the responsibility of adopting a master plan for the city. The latter is a reality at this time and a new zoning ordinance is in effect.

Charlotte, a city of 8,244 people lying in the geographical center of Eaton County, is fortunate in that their water supply comes from artesian wells and requires little treatment beyond fluoridation and chlorination. Expansion of the municipal water supply system has been completed with preliminary planning being done on additional distribution and storage facilities.

Charlotte does enjoy both a primary and secondary waste treatment facility; however, due to the increased demands upon these system and the new requirements as set forth by water quality standards of the federal government and the Department of Natural Resources, this facility is being expanded and upgraded and should be in operation soon. Cost of this facility is approximately $5 million.

With Dean Industrial

Park filled, the City began studies which will lead to developing a new industrial park.

Charlotte's assessed valuation as of December 31, 1979 was $56,763,034 with an additional $1,266,600 on industrial facility rolls.

A new municipal complex graces the downtown area of Charlotte as well as a new county complex in the northerly section of the city.

Five free parking lots, provided by the City and the Charlotte Parking Authority, consisting of downtown and city businesses, provide free parking at the rear of most downtown business buildings.

Charlotte boasts a municipal airport with a lighted 3,000 foot paved runway. Hangar space, fuel and repairs are available at the field which has a uni-com radio system and an administration building for pilot's convenience.

Charlotte enjoys an abundance of parks and recreational programs. Recreation is provided by a community schools program financed jointly by the City and the School System. Over 100 acres of park lands are available to the public.

Gall Farm recognized

Historical society to honor heritage

By PEARL VARNER
Historical Society
President

The Romulus Historical Society, in conjunction with the City of Romulus, will honor our local heritage on Heritage Day, May 18. The public is cordially invited to participate in the activities free of charge.

The Gall Centennial Farm, located at 12124

Inkster Road, Romulus, will be recognized as Local Historic Site No. 3 on this occasion. Owned and operated by Norman Gall and his wife, Minna, the farm is located on the west side of Inkster Road, between Goddard and Northline Roads. A Centennial Farm marker is on the side lawn.

At 1 o'clock a presentation ceremony will be held at the Gall Centennial Farm home. Mayor William M. Oakley and other elected officials of Romulus will join with officers and members of the Romulus Historical Society to present an official resolution and commemorative plaque designating the Gall Centennial Farm a Local Historic Site.

After the ceremony, at approximately 2 p.m., everyone is invited to take part in a community picnic at Elmer Johnson Park. The park is located on Ozga Road, 1/2 mile north of Five Points, Romulus, between McBride and Wick Roads.

Bring your own lunch and table service — coffee and orange drink will be provided. There will be games and prizes for children. Bring your old albums, photographs, and horseshoe games for an enjoyable afternoon.

The Gall Farm was purchased by Frederick Gall and his wife, Wilhelmina, in 1877. At first the Frederick Gall family lived in a log cabin until the white frame farmhouse was built around 1883 at the time their son, Alvin, was born. They reared a family of six children, Alvin, Albert, Minnie, Bertha, Anne and Theresa.

Alvin Gall and his wife, Ella, were the second generation to operate the farm. Their children were: Ervin, Norman, Margaret, and Dorothy.

Ervin built a home across the street on part of the farm while Margaret married Melvin Staffeld and presently lives in Romulus. Dorothy married Donald Brown and they now live in Taylor.

In 1966 Norman Gall took as his bride Minna Konow. His parents then built a new home and Norman and his wife remained on the homestead and continued to farm. They now maintain an orchard and tree nursery called Homestead Nursery.

In the year 1978 the Gall Farm obtained the title of Centennial Farm from the state of Michigan. A Centennial Farm is a Michigan farm which has been owned and operated by the same family for more than one hundred years. Through this program the Michigan History Division of the Department of State emphasizes the important contributions which farmers have made to the economic, cultural, and social advancement of Michigan.

Committees in charge of preparations for and during Heritage Day include the following: PUBLICITY — Diane Hazen; RAMADA INN WELCOME SIGN publicity — Linda Patrias; CHILDREN'S GAMES — Pearl Morris and Kenneth Krueger; PICNIC TABLES — James and Linda Chirrup; PICNIC SET-UP — Steve and Lori Patrias; Kenneth Krueger, Sheldon and Gloria Chandler. Also Nell Sheppard, Lillian Patrias, Jean Krueger, and Linda Patrias. COFFEE AND ORANGE DRINK — Pearl Varner and Helen Hay; HOSPITALITY in charge of old albums, photographs, and MEMORABILIA — Charles and Evalyn Lau; PROGRAM ART — Helen Morris Hay.

Elected officials of the Romulus Historical Society for 1980 include the following: president, Pearl Varner; vice-president, Kenneth Krueger; secretary, Helen Morris Hay; treasurer, Gloria Chandler.

They invite other interested persons to join the group. For further information, call the Romulus Library at — 941-0775.

Regular meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month and starting at 7 p.m. at the Romulus Library. The next meeting will be held, May 21.

Community pride shines during Michigan Week

Picture in your mind: navy blue state flags flying in the wind, welcome banners and police escorts, races, games and contests. Top that off with a community picnic and dedication ceremony, huge 747 jets, special learning projects and field trips and nationally-known speakers.

If this scene sounds familiar, it is because Romulus brings all these ingredients together, and more, for its annual observance of Michigan Week.

This year, the 8-day "extravaganza" begins on May 17, which has been designated Community Pride Day. On that day, Romulus senior citizens will be planting marigolds at public sites throughout the city, including the laying of sod and building white picket fences and downtown flower boxes to beautify their new senior center and other areas of the city. The flowers have been donated by Block's Farm Market and Romulus Greenhouses, the sod by Huron Sod Farms, and the labor by the seniors.

May 18 is Heritage Day, and the Romulus Historical Society in conjunction with the city, will be declaring the Gall Centennial Farm at 12124 Inkster Road as a local historical site. A special dedication ceremony is planned at the farm at 1 p.m., followed by a community picnic at Elmer Johnson Park. Both events are open to the public, but residents will have to pack their own table service and picnic lunch. Coffee and punch will be provided.

On May 19 local government officials will greet visiting dignitaries from the city of Charlotte, Mich., and the key to the city will be presented to Mayor Daryl Baker. This will be followed by a round of presentations, tours and luncheons and will culminate with a city-wide banquet, to which the public will be invited.

This year the banquet will be held at the new Tigris Restaurant and Supper Club and will include a full meal and entertainment.

On World Trade Day, the Metropolitan Airport will play host to Romulus residents who want to get an inside glimpse into the workings of a giant international airport. At 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. buses will be at city hall to carry residents on a complete tour of the jetport, including the international terminal, flight kitchens, freight loading facilities and the possible boarding of an aircraft.

Visiting mayor is active in community

Charlotte Mayor L. Daryl Baker, who will be visiting Romulus for Mayor's Exchange Day May 19, is active in civic, church and community affairs.

Awarded the Jaycees' Young Man of the Year honor, Baker does much more in his community than simply serve as mayor, an office he's held since Jan. 1, 1976.

Baker is a member of Charlotte's Rotary Club, St. Mary's Church at the local country club. Also an active businessman, the mayor serves as co-owner and vice-president of the Charlotte Insurance Agency.

The 41-year-old chief executive was a city councilman since 1968 before his election as mayor. He and his wife, Mary Jean, are the parents of six children, including twin boys.

Michigan Week events (Continued from Page 6)

On May 21, the local Chamber of Commerce will sponsor Livelihood Day. Douglas Fraser, president of the UAW, will be the special guest speaker at a noon luncheon at the Hilton Airport Inn. Tickets are $6.50 per person and are available at the chamber. The chamber also will use the occasion to install its newly-elected officers for 1980.

May 22 is Education Day in Romulus, and all Romulus schools will have "open house" tours for parents to showcase the achievements of their children. Most of the projects displayed will have Michigan as their theme. Also, that day, high school students will take over city hall and the 34th District Court in mock sessions of the city council and courtroom. A luncheon will follow in the community room, sponsored by Kentucky Fried Chicken of Romulus.

May 23 is Hospitality Day, and the Parks and Recreation Department will start its regular Friday night softball league at Elmer Johnson Park beginning at 6 p.m. Some of the best teams in the city will be competing in four games each night on two lighted diamonds.

May 24 will close out the week with Youth Day, and the recreation department has planned contests, games, prizes, ponies, rides and entertainment for the city's youth. The activities will be centered at city hall, beginning at 11 a.m.

Congratulations

TO KEEP THEM STANDING STRAIGHT MAKE THESE SIMPLE POSTURE CHECKS

1. SHOULDER CHECK

Have child stand straight. Both shoulders should be level. One shoulder high is an indication of problems.

2. HEM CHECK

Check a daughter's skirt hem to see if it hangs crooked—or if every new skirt purchased has to be altered on just one side.

3. BENDING CHECK

Have child bend straight forward from the waist, head level with the back and arms hanging relaxed to the floor. Check on either side of the spine to see if the muscles "bunch" up (one sign of scoliosis—curvature of the spine).

4. SHOE CHECK

Children wear out shoes in a hurry. This is expected. But if one shoe wears out well ahead of the other—especially if the wear is centered on the edge of the shoe—the possibility of spinal problems exists.

The presence of one of these problems may be an early indication of spinal nerve pressure and a Chiropractic spinal examination should be made without hesitation.

Future of Romulus Central B

Mansion of the past

S.R. Kingsley farm house, with fancy horse drawn rig coming out of the barn was one of the Romulus' area showplaces in the community's infant days.

Parsonage of yesteryear

This Methodist parsonage, as photo shows, was a farmhouse in the years before Romulus became a city, a far cry from some of today's palatial residences.

Business District looks bright

$145,000 project could be funded within 2 years, planners say

The Romulus Central Business District Association, (RCBD) together with the Department of Community Development of the City of Romulus, is engaged in an effort to improve and revitalize the downtown or "old village" area of the City.

Christopher Wzacny Associates has been employed to assist in this process and to provide design and planning consulting services.

The process began more than a year ago when the business association and the city jointly funded a $16,500 planning study.

Countless hours and hundreds of pages of study and reports later, the planners have reached several conclusions and have revealed their suggestions for the downtown area.

Briefly, they conclude that the RCBD is in a "strong and viable position." They make this assessment based on their conclusion that a strong base of population support exists for a neighborhood center such as the downtown area and future population growth estimates indicate adequate support.

This includes a suggestion that other businesses, such as a variety store and restaurant, have the potential to make it in this area.

The planners also mention that the construction of the Romulus Towers senior citizen housing complex strongly supports their positive outlook.

In the streetscape picture above, the planners envision Goddard Road being transformed into a three lane street with angle parking along the front of the businesses. In addition, concrete sidewalks and bricked street benches, trash receptacles and concrete grated tree clusters add a major new look to the area.

They recommend the closing of Shook street next to Bilmar's Shopping Center to give additional parking space to the busy supermarket along with the construction and improvements to several existing small parking lots.

The planners hope to impart a distinct image and character to the area by recommending old style street lights mounted on poles and business store fronts.

In addition, they have suggested that the individual owners install awnings, upgrade their store signs and paint their buildings in a uniform pattern.

To date, the project has received strong support from the city government, civic organizations, such as the Romulus Beautification Committee, the Chamber of Commerce and the general public, all necessary ingredients to a successful downtown project.

If funded by an innovative grant, applied for by the City's Community Development Department, the $145,000 project could be completed within the next two years, according to the planners.

The future of Romulus? For the downtown business district, it looks bright.

City of Romulus becomes industrial, commercial center

ROMULUS became a city in May, 1970, and is an area with probably the most significant single influence in the growing economy of Wayne County today.

The vast and still expanding Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport occupies approximately one-sixth of the city's 36 square miles. It is the major transportation center of a six-county area surrounding Detroit.

Combined with freeways, rail facilities, and accessibility to the St. Lawrence Seaway, the city is fast developing into an important industrial and commercial center.

Romulus was created in 1835 from part of Huron Township, one of the original nine townships in Wayne County. The area was a swampy, wooded locality accessible only by a few trails and the shallow winding Huron River.

The peace treaty of 1814 between the United States and the British, which confined the lucrative fur trading market within the United States to American citizens only, could well have prompted hunters familiar with the area to settle down here, for the woods in the township were thick with wildlife.

The first known resident was a French-Canadian by the name of Samuel Polyne, who immigrated in 1826. He was followed a few years later by Jenks Pullen and his six sturdy sons.

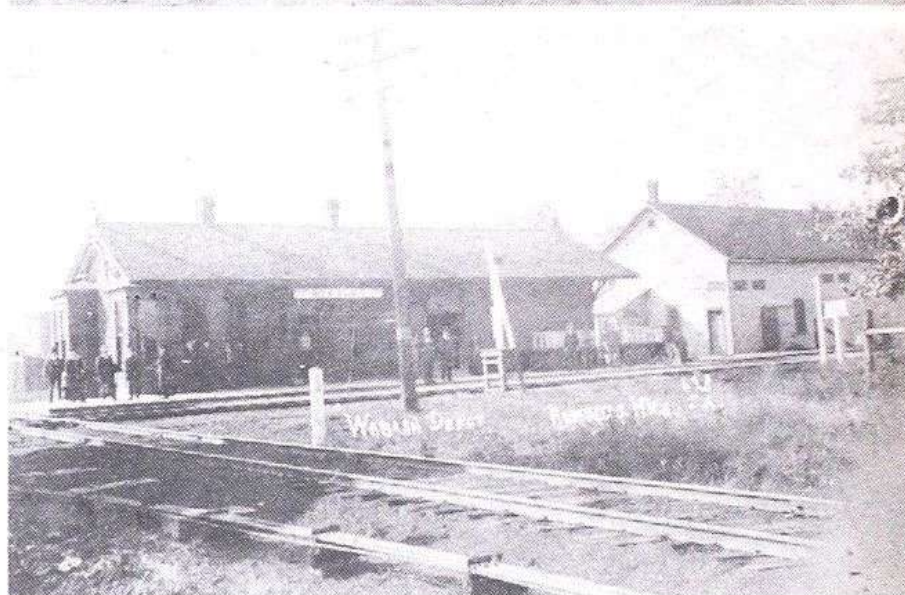

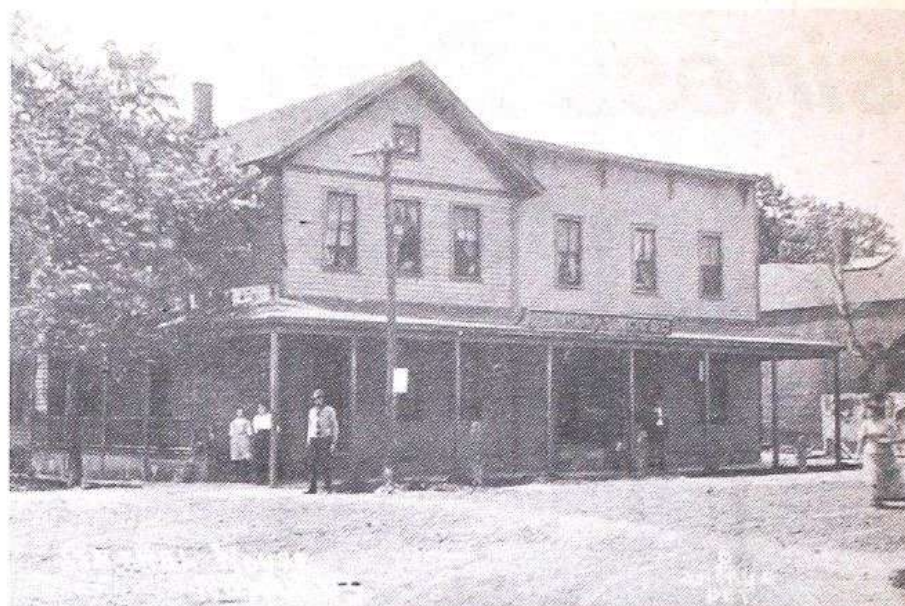

The village of Romulus was platted and recorded in 1836 and eventually came to be known as "Pullen's Corners." (Many of the descendants of the Pullen family are still living in the area.) This is the section which is claimed to have played an important role during the period of the underground railroad in the transportation of escaped slaves from the south.

Farming evolved into the principal occupation of the residents as the area became more settled.

The town of Romulus today still retains very much of a country town "Main Street" look, proceeding at a casual quiet pace. Throughout the rest of the city, however, there is the atmosphere of a boom town and a new age.

The direct influence of Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport in its midst is evidenced by the numerous new industrial plants and commercial enterprises surrounding the airport and the many new residential sections of the city.

LIGHT-YEARS AHEAD...

Anticipating the demand for lighter-weight automotive components, Kelsey-Hayes has introduced several new products to meet the industry's challenges of the Eighties.

Highlighting recent developments are new, production-proven, lightweight fabricated aluminum wheels. They weigh up to 40% less than their steel counterparts... less, too, than comparable forged or cast aluminum wheels. Taking advantage of the natural beauty and formability of aluminum, they can also be produced in many attractive designs that eliminate the need for traditional wheel covers.

Lighter, more compact, low-drag disc brake packages are another major Kelsey-Hayes contribution to automobile weight savings.

These new lightweight products reflect the same dedication to quality that has been a Kelsey-Hayes tradition for over seventy years. Kelsey-Hayes Company, Romulus, MI 48174. A subsidiary of Fruehauf Corporation.
